SCA PLANS INTERESTING PROGRAMS

Mrs. Conn Will Give Book Review

Several interesting programs have been planned for the coming Student Christian Association meetings.

Tuesday evening, February 24, the program will consist of group singing of favorite songs. This should be of interest to all.

On March 3 Mrs. Hadley Conn has consented to give a book review entitled "The Keys of the Kingdom", written by A. J. Cronin. The book has a religious foundation, being the story of a Scotch priest.

Mrs. Conn has spoken before Study Clubs, Business and Professional Clubs, Parent Teacher Associations, Civic, Church and Fraternal Organizations.

The townspeople and Public are invited to attend the meeting Tuesday evening, March 3 at 7:00 P.M. in the Reception Room.

TYPISTS ASSIST WITH REGISTRATION

A dozen members of the typing class "did their part" in the Registration program last Monday by typing cards for the Registrants from ages 20 to 45.

Those who typed included: Altha Guernsey, Cozette Nichols, Maxie Simerly, Kathryn Mackey, Ina Ellen Humphreys, Helen Dalton, Marion McGhehey, June Downen, Elsie Peters, Bettie Williams, Helen Rogers and Dorothy Mae Leathers.

TWO TRANSCRIBE 140 WORD "TAKES"

Pins in recognition of the fact that they had taken dictation at 140 words per minute and transcribed with over 95% accuracy were received this week by Marion McGhehey and Paul Ritchie. These awards were made by the Gregg Publishing Co.

Both are members of the class in stenography. Others of the class are striving for this honor.

GAME AND MIXER TONIGHT

The Warriors will meet the Valpo squad tonight at 8 o'clock in the gymnasium. This promises to be a difficult game and one of interest to all students, friends and faculty members.

After the game all will adjourn to the Grid Room for the regular All-College Mixer. Goodwin's orchestra will furnish the music.

STUDENTS WILL CONDUCT PARKE COUNTY CONTEST

Students of CNC will go tomorrow to Rockville to assist with the business contest events of the Parke County schools contest. Tests will be given in beginning typing and bookkeeping. Beulah Woolsey is responsible for the fixing of the typing tests and Earl Dinsmore, Marjorie Merrilees, and Viola Williamson are responsible for the bookkeeping tests.

Those who will go tomorrow are: June Downen, Ruby Huff, Viola Williamson, Beulah Woolsey, and Marjorie Merrilees accompanied by Mrs. Wean.

Other tests will be given at Greencastle on March 7, Franklin March 10, Pleasant Lake March 20, Greenfield March 21, and Paragon March 24.

HOOKEY TO DO FIELD WORK

Mr. Elwood Hookey, head of the Commerce Department of Brazil High School has been employed by the Board of Trustees to assist with the promotion program in making contact with prospective students. He will work part time until summer when he will then work full time.

Mr. Hookey is a graduate of Indiana State Teachers College of Terre Haute and taught last year in the Oklahoma A. and M. University where he completed his M.A. degree. He is specialized in the sales field.

He is married and has a daughter, Patty, who is seven years old.

COMMITTEES APPOINTED

The date for the annual Razz Banquet has been set for Friday evening, April 10. This is the occasion when all the leaders and faculty of the campus meet together for the annual "Fun Fest"--an opportunity of reviewing the funny events of the entire year.

Committees for the occasion have been appointed by President Rose Marie Adams as follows: to report the list of seniors eligible for the best journalist cups, Force, Pelko, Huffman; food, V. Williamson, Downen, C. Jones; invitations and place cards, Detmer, Merrilees; decorations, Dinsmore, Rudolph; program, O. Williamson, Conner; razz edition; Dove, Humphreys, McClung.

A special meeting of Kappa Pi Beta will be held on Monday evening for the purpose of discussing problems connected with the immediate work.

DEFENSE REGISTRATION OPEN TO STUDENTS

Registration of civilian defense workers is being made this week and next Sunday afternoon in the City Hall.

Those who would volunteer for clerical work, emergency work of different kinds and as blood donors are requested to register.

Mr. L. G. Vannice is in charge of the entire project. It has been proposed that the registration of the student body be sponsored by the Association of Women Students.

REMEMBER MARCH 15 IS DEADLINE FOR FEDERAL TAXES

Are you getting gray haired from worrying over your income tax report? The solution to your sleepless nights is no farther away than the commerce department.

Members of the class struggled with the reports of Mr. and Mrs. Doe in order to save $.33. After every possible combination of deductions, they arrived at the cheapest amount. They now feel that they can tackle almost any project.

See members of the class for further information.

THIS 'N THAT

Far be it from me to keep you from taking out your flivver, but 'y know "we have no tires today"--incidentally, we haven't any retread tires either--so Beware!! War! War! and "they" (I've always wondered who "they" was) say we are going to be rationed, as to gasoline and oil--of course propaganda flies past, and one don't know how much of it to believe.

Well, the weather is always a current topic--need I say that today snow seems the fad?

Speaking of fads, girls, if you have noticed, shawls with long fringes are "all the go."

"Shut the door! We're in the draft!" Has again echoed across our campus, what with Mondays draft just past, all the gals looks forward to losing the current boy friend to Uncle Sam. Well, they are willing to help "Slap a Jap off the Map."

The day of sentiment on the part of lovers--Valentine's day, of course is long since past, but ye 'ed wonders if you've heard the latest.

Roses are red
Violets are blue
Sugar is sweet
--and Expensive!

Central Normal College coeds seem war-minded, in that they have pledged themselves to help with Red Cross sewing, knitting, crocheting, etc. The recreation room will be opened soon for that purpose.

As for gab and gossip, it's got to stop until next week!

DO YOU KNOW JUST WHAT AN ELEMENTARY TEACHER TEACHES

The other day my friend and I were walking down the hall. I asked her if she would like to visit a classroom. Since both of us were interested in elementary school work, we agreed upon visiting an elementary classroom. We had no idea as to what room to go into and the only way was to knock and ask.

I knocked at the first door. A man answered the door and I asked him what he taught.

"I teach math," came his reply.

We weren't exactly interested in math so we went on to the next door. This time a lady answered the door. When asked what she taught, she came back with this reply.

"I teach freshman, junior, and senior English."

We still were dissatisfied with our findings, so on we went.

The next time we knocked, a very amazing young lady came to the door. We asked what she taught and this was her answer.

"Oh, I am trying to teach some music. Won't you come in?"

We thanked her and stated that we intended to visit an elementary classroom. She told us that the room we wanted was at the end of the hall.

Finally we came to our desired classroom and knocked on the door. I asked this lady what she taught.

"I teach children, of course," came her answer.

I was wondering just what we had run up against, when my friend asked her the grade level she was teaching?

"Well, I teach children of different levels of abilities," came her reply.

Perhaps you could tell us the room that is assigned to you?

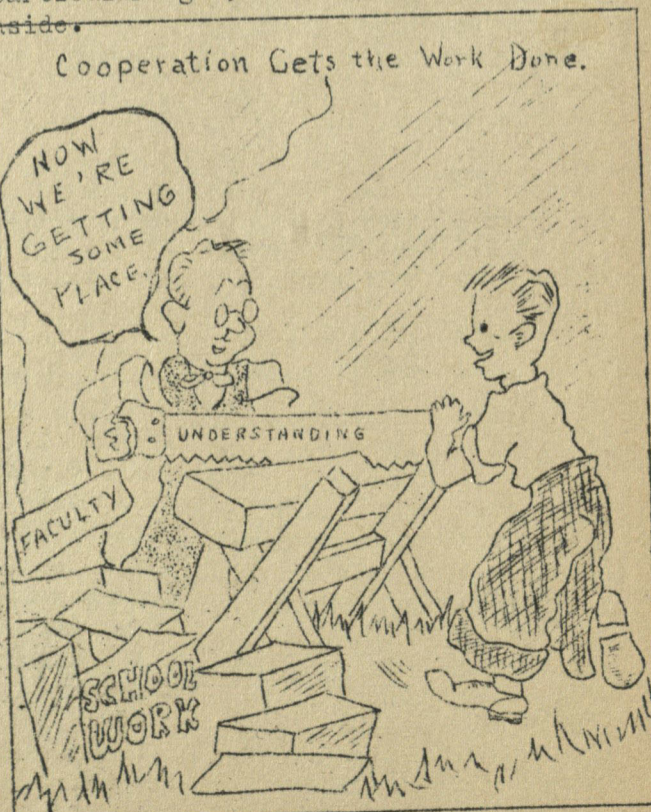

"The fifth grade is the grade that is assigned to me."

If we could have gone on in the classroom without asking any more questions, perhaps everything would have been all right. Instead I asked what she was teaching the children. She told us that she was teaching them to be good citizens, to be able to reason, to use reference books, and et c. "The subjects I teach are Social Studies and English in the elementary grades."

We decided that we would visit this class, but no more questions.

The important thing to gain from these conversations is that this elementary teacher was teaching children and not just subject-matter alone.

There are many things that occur in an elementary classroom that seem unnecessary and useless. Nevertheless, there are brought up by children of these particular ages, that just can't be put aside.

LETTER RECEIVED FROM AUDRA ROBERTS

A letter has been received from Audra Roberts, '38, who is teaching in the School of Business at Indiana University. She says: "I'm enjoying my work very much this semester---I'm teaching two typewriting classes and one shorthand. I also like the courses in which I am enrolled.

It looks doubtful as to my coming to the Homecoming game or dance and you know how I'm going to hate that---especially missing the Homecoming dance. I think this will be the first one that I have missed since I left dear old C.N.C.

These Saturday classes aren't going to be any too much fun, I'm afraid. I always liked to leave part of my work to be finished up on the week-end, but not any more.

CHRISTIAN CHURCH

"Sunday morning is church time."

"The Great Purpose"--is the subject of the minister's sermon next Sunday, the first of a series leading up to Easter. The minister hopes those who are not attending church elsewhere will follow the series through, as well as be in the College Class taught by Prof. Green each Sunday.

Sunday night there will be an interesting Union Church Service at the Methodist Church--8:00

ANNOUNCEMENTS

Seniors and Juniors make Trial Programs next week and Sophomores and Freshmen the following week.

Seniors keep applications for practice teaching at the time they make their trial programs.

KAPPA PI BETA WILL MEET

There will be a meeting of Kappa Pi Beta at 5:00 Monday evening in the Commerce office. It is important that all members be there.

WAA BASKET-BALL TOURNAMENT WILL BEGIN NEXT WEEK

The annual basketball tournament held within the Women's Athletic Association will begin with the first game being played on Thursday, February 26, in the Girls' Gym.

The teams have been declared and are listed as follows: Margaret Winklepleck, captain; Mary Byers, Genevieve Bush, Cosette Nichols, Virginia Adkinson, Helen Yacuk, Florence Vaspinder, Vivian Monnanger, Dorothy Pelko, Pat Summers; Eudora Ellis, captain; Mildred Griggs, Mary A. Miller, Mignon Hurt, Maxie Simerly, Kathleen Mauck, Opal Williamson, Anna Yacuk, Virginia Wilson, Maxine Cole.

All girls should try to attend every meeting since each absence will deduct ten points from the total points to be gained from the tournament. The winning team will be awarded 100 points for each member and the runner-up will be awarded 75 points for each member.

The CNC W. A. A. has been invited to participate in the Play Day to be held at Indiana State on April 17. Volley Ball, Deck Tennis, Ping Pong, and badminton will be the featured games. Girls to represent the CNC Association will be chosen at a future meeting.

The department lost one of its members this week to the navy. Cecil Havens has gone to Washington D. C. to try out for the navy school of music. From all probabilities he will not be back until after the war.

Anita Breitweiser is going to sing at the Friends Church Friday afternoon at special prayer services.

The Chorus is working hard on plans for a party next month and a special Convocation program is being planned which will be a surprise and also entertaining.

At the present time there is only one musical organization on the Campus to perform. The "Three Men and a Girl". There should be two or three instrumental groups formed such as the "Hungry Dopes" and the Maviano trio which were so popular last year. Try and start something. The music department would appreciate any young organization.

ROYAL FOUR WILL GIVE CONCERT

The Royal Four, a Negro Male Quartet, radio singers, will give a concert at the Methodist Church evening service on Sunday, February 22. Their concert will include Negro spirituals, plantation melodies, and jubilee songs.

Rev. Frank J. Niles, D. D., will give his timely lecture on "America's Greatest Institution and Its Present Peril".

The service will be held at 8:00. Admission is free. All students are urged to attend.

EXPERT SERVICE IS AT YOUR DISPOSAL

INQUIRING REPORTER

Do you think the dirt sheet helps or hinders student spirit? Would you be in favor of destroying it?

Paul Ritchie--Keep it! I think all students enjoy it although some think the articles are too cutting.

Mary Byers----Don't do away with it, No! But there isn't anything we can do if our names are in it.

Ellen Humphreys--I think most of the students read the paper for their dirt sheet. It keeps morale at a high peak. It should not be destroyed because practically everyone likes to see his name in the paper.

Carolyn Wortman--I think students gripe a little but they really like to have their name in the dirt sheet! I would never be in favor of destroying it.

Mignom Hurt--I like it because it gives each student a chance to get his name in or something.

John Oliver---Well, when you do something drastic you expect to find you done made it---I always read it first.

Dr. Hightower---I don't see that it is of any value, but there is no harm in it. Some people get hurt but only a few, not enough to discontinue it.

Randolph McClung---I believe it helps keep interest up. The people who get mad mostly want their names in.

FORMER EDITOR JACKSON REPORTING

"How is everybody back in CNC? How was Homecoming? I sure would like to have been there but I couldn't make it. Did you have a large crowd at the game or was it too bad weather?

Have you heard from Wallace lately, and how does he like his new job? I'll bet that he would prefer CNC, but as you know we don't always get what we want.

"I would like to get back for your contest but as things look now, I am afraid that I will not be able to make that either.

"I hope to start in to school soon and, if I make it, it will be about four months before I can leave. I hope that I get to go to school though, for I am ready to change type of work. I have had to work every day for the past five weeks and almost every night. At present I am C. Q. in the office which lasts until 10 p.m., about five minutes to go.

We had a thirty minute blackout to-night and it sure is a worthwhile experience, no bombs were dropped."

DIRT

Baughn please don't keep us in suspense! First he sends her a special delivery and then a telegram (postmarked--Worthington). We hear that some mighty fine boys hail from there. But we hear it is only to help relieve her homesickness for Brack...

Poor Oliver, he was called to the phone twice. The caller being Schildmeier. He was quite excited and hoping it would be an invitation to the dance--but no soap. It was only for business talk, too bad. Better luck next time, Oliver.

Did anyone ever notice what a grand smile Bob Leak has?

Some of the girls on the campus are going to lose their girlish figure if they don't quit going into the Humpty Dumpty just so "Clark Gable" will wait on them. Seems a pity that he doesn't realize it and give them a break.

You should have seen the look of amazement on Tanselle's face when he received a beautiful pink valentine from a "You Know Who", and apparently he knew from whom it came and was he happy. But who can blame him.

Mary Jo Fulton must really have it bad. She receives letters from her army boy-friend every day. And believe me they are from five to ten pages long. Nice work if you can get it.

Anita Breitweiser had a caller one night last week end. It was none other than Raymond Albrecht.

Jane Huffman and Dorothy Felko seem to be holding out on us about their boy-friends. Come on girls, give out the information.

GET your shoes repaired by WM. WALTON

Charles Gross and Laura Ruschhaupt are still going strongly, looks like the real McCoy.

We are not mentioning any names but we hear that a certain girl is sure in heaven because Kenneth Sutherland is back.

Max Johnson and Doris Peters seemed to be enjoying themselves at the Homecoming Dance. Also Rex Johnson--Max's brother, from Indiana State was seen with Betty Williams.

Joe Merk needs cooperation in shorthand class. Sorry, Joe, afraid you're out-numbered.

Some boys on this campus can't realize they might give the girls a chance. Such as Norman Beyl.

Why did Helen Rogers leave her letters unopened and unread until she was alone? Good or bad news expected?

Well, would you believe it, Bill Mayer & Margaret Mathews still have only eyes for each other.

Bob Platt needs glasses. His eyes deceive him about who was in Federle's car the other day.

Is this romance between Downey and Virginia Wilson? They often share the same table in the library.

This isn't news anymore but Ellen and John are still going strong.

Fred Franzman & Carolyn Wortman are getting along swell, maybe there is a possibility it will develop into the real thing.

I wonder if certain boys on the campus realize that they are the cause of many a C. N. C. coed losing a good night's sleep! The reason being that the Alpha Theta and Delta Sigma Dance is near and some are still without dates, all because the girls are too bashful.

THINGS WE COULDN'T DO WITHOUT

Dr. Hightower talking about his farm and pigs.
"Fibber" boasting about his speed on the electric.
Dalton with his camera.
Wayne Campbell and his cartoons and drawings.
Earl Conner with Opal Williamson.
Miss Blair in the library to keep peace.
Fred Franzman and his twirling baton.
Byron Sullivan and his hearty laugh.
Dean Evans keeping an eye on the girls.

THINGS WE COULD DO WITHOUT

The dissection of frog in Biology class.
Draper going home at the half from a ballgame to get his lessons.
Dr. Hightower's stimuli.
Dickerson's pipe.
Byers & Green's mustache.
Pat Summer's and Freda Pope's flirting.
Eternal triangles in CNC romances on the campus.

SPORTS

Ind. State 37--C.N. C. 31
Last Saturday night the Purple Warriors lost their Homecoming game to the Ind. State quintet by 6 points.

The Indiana State boys were able to hold a lead from five to ten points the most of the game.

The Warriors kept in range of the Ind. State but were never able to stage a rally to catch up.

The first half ended with the Warriors trailing 6 points, 17 to 11.

G. Percy led the Cycamores with 12 points while H. Percy collected 8. Conrad was the high scorer for the Warriors with 9 points and W. Jackson collected 6.

YOUNGER NAMED ON ALL STATE
Everett Younger, the star of C.N.C. has been named as forward on the All State second team for this year.

The players were chosen from their record as both offensive and defensive players. We are all sure the credit goes to "Gunner" for his out-standing work. "Gunner" has been the Captain of the Warriors for the last two seasons.

"Gunner" is a Senior and will be mustered into the Army as soon as he has completed his College Degree.

ST. JOE DEFEATS C.N.C.

The Warriors lost their 12th. game of the season last Tuesday night to St. Joe.

The Warriors gave the Pumas very stiff competition the first fifteen minutes of the game, but the Pumas began to pull the Warriors defense out and began to score. The first half ended 24 to 19 in favor of the Pumas.

Gutgsell began to pour the baskets in from all parts of the court, with a total of 12 field goals and 1 foul toss for a total of 25 points in the last half. Walt. Jackson and Conrad were the high scorers for the Warriors with 9 points apiece.
