The commerce department has always maintained an attitude of helpfulness to the merchants and clubs of Danville and neighboring communities. This service will be extended to the merchants of Indianapolis who in these days are not able to maintain enough assistance to do much of this work in their own offices. Information will be sent to Indianapolis (Cont. on pg. 6)

New Members Invited To Join

For the past several days a group of bicyclists have been having regular meetings and really having a great deal of fun. MR. LUNDY ADVISES CONCERNING ENDOWNELLT

Last Monday evening Mr. Lundy of Martz-Lundy Co. of New York met with a group of faculty and board members to discuss the endowment idea further.

Mr. Lundy told that his company started making campaigns by first making a survey of the college which was seeking to establish an endowment. This survey would show the things which needed help in the entire school--the business situation, the administrative situation and educational standards--recommendations for their changes and an analysis of the constituency and leadership. After the survey a recommendation would be made as to how to proceed with the collection of the endowment.

YOUR THOUGHTS

"A sword, a spade, and a thought should never be allowed to rust." -- James Stephens.

Just what does this sentence mean to you? Are you using your mind to think good thoughts or do you let your thoughts "go with the wind?"

At no other time in our young lives have we had occasion to use our thoughts more than right now. We are constantly confronted with many proplexing problems --problems which require the best thinking that we are able to apply to them; situations which demand the greatest amount of studying and weighing.

Now is the best time to begin the development of your thoughts -- while you are in school. If your thoughts are rusty now, it is very unlikely that they will shine in later life. Have you ever heard of a successful person who let his thoughts rust? No! Successful people are not born, they use their talents to the best of their ability.

Remember, we are the ones who will have to bear the burdens of the future. We must be prepared to meet them.

CEILINGS SET

The price cailing covers all of Main Street now. It stands above the cash register in the shoeshine shop as well as at the butchers'. It has been extended until it shields the man who wants a clock repaired or his hat blocked quite as much as it does the customer at the cornor grocery or drug store. Under this ceiling are the highest prices which may be set by laundries and furniture repairmen, the most that may be charged by auto parking lots and drycleaners, locksmiths and gunsmiths and morticians.

These additions to the price control structure are controlled as of July 1 by a new Office of Price Administration regulation which transfers all such services connected with commodities from the general maximum price regulations and sets them up under a special system. The number of establishments of one sert or another which are affected has been estimated at pretty close to 1,000,000, while the total amount spent by the buying public for the wide range of ser-vices covered amounts to more than $5,000,000,000 a year.

IS CRITICISM OF ENGLAND AMERICANISM

We are now hearing severe and harsh criticism of Britian's conduct in the war. No one will deny that an average of all the battles of the war gives her a grave disadvantage. But we are ho ally and when she loses, we lose. If the Middle-East is lost, every American citizen's life will be materially affected for many days to come. To gain it back, or its equivalent, will cost the lives of many an American boy. An Axis victory would mean slavery, until this great world conquest movement runs its course, not only for the English but also for us. If an Axis victory in every continent except North America would leave us free from political slavery, most certainly it would not loave us free from economic slavery as increased rationing is now bearing out.

Comitting British Imperalism, its many good and some bad effects on the world of today, we cannot forget that England was the cradle and proving ground of the very representative democracy that we are all willing to fight for today. One of the principles that democracy gives us is the right to question or even to constructively criticize our Country's governmental procedure. But let us not forget that severe criticism broads discontent, that discontentment means disunity, and disunity leads to failure. No man in the world is happier than Adolf Hitler for every bit of adverse criticism Americans can give which will cause us to lose faith in our British ally.

America offers the bost way of life, wo are sure, but if it were a second choice, who would want to exchange the way of life of an Englishman with that of a Hitler, dominated Czech, or Hollander or even a Nazi in Gormany.

Lot's be rational and give the allies a chance to win so we can keep the privilogos of criticism.

RUBBER DRIVE EXTENDED

The two-week whirlwind drive for rubbor sorap, asked by the President, has been extended for another two weeks. Do not let. up in the search for and the sale of rubber. It is just as urgently needed now as before -- maybe more so, as the yield is not coming in as expected.

Last summer's aluminum collection drive resulted in the recovery of 6.398,051 pounds, only 422 per cent of the amount expected. At the present time, the rubbor salvage drive is not coming up to the expected height, either. Have we been cooperating? It doesn't cost anything, but a little time spent in digging out those old rubber articles may help a great deal in the war machine where rubber is absolutely necessary.

Stand up to be seen, speak up to be heard, shut up to be appreciated.

Some men blaze a way; others only blaze away.

The wise man's constant aim is never to be caught talking when he should be listoning.

The more you talk about yourself, the greater, danger of your becoming just an ordinary liar.
