KENNETH L. SHELLEY WILL SPEAK AT CONVOCATION

Mr. Kenneth L. Shelley, Director of the Indiana Economic Council will speak at Convocation Thursday morning.

He will show slides of the projects which are being developed in many the cities of Indiana.

This talk will not only be interesting but it will also be helpful to all students who will do community work.

Mr. Shelley will be assisted by Mrs. Bobby Elliot, sister of Paul Ritchie.

THIS WEEK IS RUSH WEEK

A week filled with parties and more parties will keep the campus busy for the week.

Last night the Association of Women Students initiated the rush week with a "Come as You Are" party for all the coeds in the Reception Room.

This evening the Alpha Thetas will have a fashion show in the Teepee Room while the Alpha Mu Kappas have a smoker in the Reception Room.

The Psi Chi's will hold their Rush Party on Wednesday evening and the Zeta Sigmas will have a smoker and chili supper in the Wigwam, Thursday evening.

BLAIR AND WALLACE TO EXCHANGE VOWS SATURDAY

Miss Ernestine Blair, daughter of Mrs. Anna Blair and Ansel Wallace will be married at the Danville Christian Church Saturday evening at 8:00 p.m. The public is invited to attend the wedding.

The bride and groom will leave immediately after the ceremonies for a weeks honeymoon through the southern states.

ART DEPARTMENT WILL HOLD EXHIBIT

An Art Exhibit will be sponsored beginning November 24, 1946, and concluding December 6. This is the first of a series of three exhibits, from the Museum of Modern Arts, New York City, to be held here. The exhibit will feature the rarely shown drawings of such noted artists as Picasso, Matisse, Renior, and Van Gogh.

As an added feature, there is to be shown at the same time and place, a collection of twenty original prints, in color, by famous contemporary Japanese artists. This combined exhibit will be shown in the Reception Room of the Administration Building open to the public free of charge at the following times: November 24, 2 to 5 p.m.; November 25 and 26, 7 to 9 p.m.; December 2 to 6, 7 to 9 p.m. daily.

The Museum of Modern Arts exhibit is a collection of seventeen reproductions, each accompanied by an explanation of the print and information concerning it. The artists

CANTERBURY HOSTS TO NOTABLES

Many notables from all over Indiana and other states attended the Inaugural Ceremonies of Dr. Cumings and luncheon held on campus Saturday.

The college band under the direction of Tilman Hadley played the processional as approximately eighty-five academic leaders of the state marched in and took their seats.

The Right Reverend Reginald Mallet of the Northern Diocese, presided over the opening, and introduced the Right Reverend R. A. Kirchhoffer of the Indianapolis Diocese, president of the Board of Trustees.

The Right Reverend Kirchhoffer introduced the guest speaker F. L. Hovde, president of Purdue University.

The Scroll of Canterbury was presented to Dr. Cumings by the Rt. Rev. R. A. Kirchhoffer. Dr. Cumings, in his inaugural address, set forth the aims and ideals of the school, and the job of the school as an educational institution.

Included in the processional were presidents of

PRODUCTION AND CONSUMPTION

The two words in the title of this little article are usually associated with economics, which Carlyle called "the dismal science." But I am not now thinking of economics, but of one of George Bernard Shaw's scintillating aphorisms: "We have no more right to consume happiness without producing it than to consume wealth without producing it."

We are thus in the realm of spiritual values, not economic values. In a workaday world no one is entitled to consume unless he also produces. "If you won't work, you can't eat."

This truth is self-evident in the economic world; it is not so obvious in the realm of the spirit, where we are concerned with factors that we cannot see or hear or feel with our physical senses. The intangibles, however, are real too! It is a fact that darkness blots out the light; that clouds obscure the sun; that gloom chases away cheer. What right has a person to expect happiness unless he produces happiness?

I have long since come to the conclusion that happiness is a by-product, not an end-product. The satisfactions that any person gets out of life fall, in the long run, into two major classes: (1) those satisfactions that grow out of the intimate relationships that are established in his home and among his friends; and (2) the satisfactions that flow out of the sense of accomplishment, of achievement. Life teaches me that so far as there is in this disturbed world any such thing as happiness, it is to be found in these two directions.

We are so constituted that we get a pleasurable thrill whenever we bring to a conclusion a piece of work on which we are engaged. That thrill has little or nothing to do with what others may say or think. It comes from an inward knowledge that we have produced something which entitles us to take our place among those who consume the good things of life.

In the midst of stress and strain there are "good things" which we ought to cultivate.

At 11:50 the bell starts its toll, at the second ding, doors fly open, people swarm into halls, across the paths, and down the stairs. Only the blur of flying feet and the scream of voices can be heard. Books fall and go unheeded. Before the eighteenth stroke of the bell has finished, the stretcher bearers have picked up the battered remains of those who could not move fast enough. At a break-neck speed, the mob goes down the stairs to the cafeteria. The door is flung open and left that way as the cold air pours in with the crowd. A line begins to snake through the Wigwam, into the Teepee room and out the far door with a few harsh words, elbow jabs, and black eyes to help its growth.

Then the mad pace ceases, snails are personified lightning compared with the speed of that food line. It waits while a decision is made between pork chops and hamburger, beans and corn, cherry pie and apple cobbler. Remarks fly from the rear to the ones holding up the line but we can't quote them here.

The campus gossip is turned into a hash that even the cooks can't beat as the line moves up inch by inch. In the middle of the line someone whispers to her neighbor, "Did you see 'Bernie' talking to Joe after history? I wonder if she and Frank have broken up? Behind them the whisper is taken up and by the end of the line it sounds like this: "Have you heard about poor Frank? Well, it seems that 'Bernie' is going with Joe now."

In the meantime the cherry pie has run out and the masculine part of the line takes more time to put over its charm and get another piece out of Canada. Triumphant the last piece is carried off only to hit the floor with a crash. The sad ex-victor grins sheepishly midst the laughter and gathers up cherries, corn kernel by kernel and dishes chip by chip.

John struggles bravely over whether salad costs ten or fifteen cents and decides to charge the two prices alternately.

Sonny Knox knocks all of the trays to the floor because they sound like cymbals and he has a yen to play them. We wonder if he admires red-headed cymbal players.

Arguments begin to break out as to whose turn it is to carry back the dishes. In no time at all the whole wild managerie is gone and peace settles for a few hours. Our cooks must have a wonderful amount of patience and a sense of humor to put up with a mob like that and not add a touch of cyanide to the food now and then.

The books which help you most are those which make you think the most.

DRAMATIC CLUB WILL GIVE PLAY

The regular Wednesday night meeting of the Dramatic Club was held at 7:00 P.M. in the Reception Room. Practice on "Dust of the Road" is underway with 2 separate casts. This play is scheduled for presentation at the Convocation before Christmas vacation. Other casts are at work on three separate plays to be presented after Christmas.

ATTEND MILITARY BALL

Clauding Alward, Gladys Edmondson and Bob Pearcy attended the annual Military Ball sponsored by the Sword and Scabbard of Purdue last Friday evening.

Music for the formal was furnished by Jimmy Dorsey and his orchestra.

CANTERBURY CLUB WILL HAVE BUSINESS MEETING

The Canterbury Club held a business meeting and panel discussion on Nov. 17th. Beginning next Sunday, the regular meetings will include dinner prepared by members. Members are urged to attend the next meeting on Sunday, Nov. 24th at 5:30 P.M. At this meeting, election of officers will be held. Terms of office will be one year. Members are asked to think this matter over and come prepared to nominate and elect capable officers.

At the close of the meeting the group discussed the question "What is Man?" The refreshment committee served coffee and donuts.

All students are welcome to attend all meetings and after the election of officers, it is hoped that the meetings will be of interest to students.

STUDENTS WILL ATTEND NACA MEETING

A group of Accounting students will attend the meeting of the National Association of Cost Accountants Wednesday evening at the Lincoln Hotel as guests of Mrs. Wean, head of the bus. dept.

represented in this exhibition are noted primarily for their paintings and their drawings and are few and rarely exhibited. Mediums used in these reproductions are: quill drawings, contour crayon, pencil ink, charcoal, sanguine and chalk.

The Japanese co-feature was collected by Charles Harris, a Canterbury Art Department major, during his stay in Japan as a serviceman. These prints include a representative selection of almost all types of Japanese art, from the expensive collectors items prints, to the gorgeous genre studies used by the middle classes as decorations for their homes. This exhibit will include prints on silk as well as paper.

SNOOOPER

Floyd must figure that a good accompanist would be an asset to his voice. Of course it may be that he has sense enough to realize how nice Edmondson is.

Why does Barbara Bush rush out of Biology class so fast? Could it be the call of Paul in the cafeteria? And what about those meetings in the room between the Biology room and the Chemistry Lab? Maybe there should be a light in there.

Some of the fellows in the barracks seem to be hearing things. Could it be Gabriel's horn blowing or just "Sweet" memories of yesterday returning to haunt them?

EX-VARSITY APARTMENTS

The occupants of the Varsity Apartments have again nicknamed their dwellings. From now on they will be known as the Ice Boxes.

Two of the occupants were carried out stiff Sunday morning and it took 3 hours to thaw them out.

CAN YOU IMAGINE????

Mr. Winfrey letting out Western Civilization class at noon?

Coach Johnson lecturing in a whisper?

We won a football game!!

The Wigwam being cleaned up after it's used?

Hovermale making Spanish class on time?

Jim Jones in a quiet thoughtful mood?

We wonder if Peggy Martin gives Ernie cut rates on food. It must be nice to have a girl behind the cash register.

WARRIORS FIRST VICTORY

A team of mud clad Warriors won the schools first football victory Saturday afternoon defeating the Panthers of Hanover 7 to 0.

Starting line-up for the Warriors was as follows: Bob Moore, LE; Jack Brannon, LT; Ray Burch, LG; Bill Schleifer, C; Jack Dooley, RG; George Thompson, RT; Frank Springer, RE; Ernie Reichert, QB; Bob Courtney, LH; Bill Volk, RH and Fred Jurisch, FB.

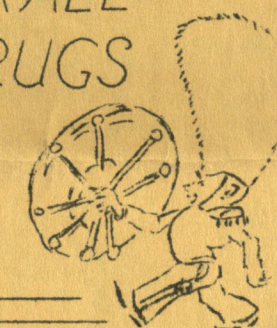

During the first period of play the Warriors drove deep into enemy territory but lost their chance of scoring on a fumble.

Warriors luck in the second quarter set up the only touchdown of the game when Volk recovered a Panther fumble on their 30 yd. line. On the following

HARRIERS FASTER THAN GREYHOUNDS

On a wet, slushy track the Canterbury Harriers scored their second consecutive victory which enabled them to end their season with a record of two won and one lost. They lost a heartbreaker to Anderson in their initial meet but since, they have been unbeatable having downed both Franklin and Indiana Central. This is an accomplishment which should fill the boys and Coach Johnson with satisfaction, because they are the first cross-country team from this school.

Last Saturday the boys did their part towards making Inauguration Day a success by overwhelming Indiana Central Greyhounds 20-35. Again "Buckshot"

O'Brien with his seemingly everlasting speed, outdistanced the pack of harriers and sped across the finish line in 18.02 min. Joe "Gazelle" Hodge however, pushed "Buckshot" to the limit and copped second place with Harper third and "Hebe" Swackhamer fourth. Johnson was the fifth man in for Canterbury.

In the three races this season O'Brien scored first place laurels twice while running second in the other. The boys who helped make the season a great success are the following: O'Brien, Hodge, Harper, Swackhamer, Johnson, Russell and Miller. The boys are looking forward to a big year in '47.

S.C.A. NOT TO HOLD REGULAR MEETING

Due to Rush week S.C.A. will not meet this week however, all are urged to attend next week.

Last week meeting was a candle-light meeting. There were 24 members present and all signed the Pledge for the Christian Youth Movement. This is a National Movement of Prime importance.

WARRIORS WIN FIRST VICTORY

play Bob Courtney skirted around right end for 30 yards and the touchdown. A short pass from Gerald Burton to Courtney converted the extra point.

Hanover's biggest threat came in the same quarter when they blocked Volk's kick and covered the ball on the Warriors 20 yard line, but Warriors power held the Panthers from a score.

A slippery ball changed sides many times during the third quarter neither team able to break through the others defense.

The Warriors made another big threat came late in the quarter when Bill Schleifer covered an enemy fumble on their 22 yard line, but the visitors again held off a score.

Final period tries for another touchdown by both teams took an aerial slant but interception and incompletion left the rest of the game scoreless.

This was the final foot ball game of the season. The Warriors first basketball game is scheduled for December 4, with Depauw, to be played there.

ZETA SIGMA HOLIS
DANCE

The Zeta Sigs gave the first semi-formal dance of the calendar year this past Saturday night, Nov. 16, and the dance seems to have been a huge success by all of those who attended.

The Decorations were extra special and the "Cabaret" style with individual and party tables and chairs for every one was the first dance of the year to be given in the College gymnasium.

Among the faculty who were present were Dr. and Mrs. Cummings (guests of honor) Mr. and Mrs. Winfrey, Mr. and Mrs. Hilliges, Miss Gaston, and Mrs. Frazier.

Other special guests were Dr. Herman Wells, president of Indiana University, Mr. Virgil Hunt, for-

Canterbury Tales

with apologies to Mr. Chaucer

We walked into the girl's Physical Ed. room last week and saw two girls standing on the table, waving their tennis rackets and screaming at the top of their voices. It seems that a "great big RAT" had glared at them from the popcorn machine. We left them immediately and we never found out how they got down off the table. The poor mouse probably had to play dead.

All of us have had our parents constantly urge us to be thrifty, but after all there is a limit. Some boys would even work late in the gym just to get into the ball game free. It serves them right if their team didn't win.

Our greatest glory is not in never falling, but in rising every time we fall.

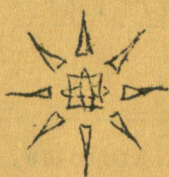

Monday night there were some weird looking characters slipping around school. They tried to tell us that they were going to a "come-as-you-are" party but personally we think they were just sleep-walking.

At a chili supper given by Mrs. Wean for the Crier staff last Wednesday, Mr. Webster told the reason for his single state. He said that no woman would have him, but it must be something else as several girls promptly proposed and he turned them all down.

Prizes were given to Birdie Vandeventer and Frances Zupancic last night at the "Come as you are Party." Dean Hillegas stated, "The girls must have been called late at night!" Wonder how he knew!

Unusual things do happen such as Mrs. Wean being called to the Zeta Sigma Fraternity meeting and Dean Hillegas crashing the "Come as you are Party." mer president of C.N.C., Mr. John Kendal, member of the present Board of Trustees and many other friends and alumni of the Fraternity from the city of Danville, and surrounding area.
