DR. W. T. LAWSON DIES

Dr. W. T. Lawson, the oldest practicing physician of Indiana, former member of the Board of Trustees of Central Normal College, and one of the movers of Central Normal College, died Saturday at 2:30 a.m.

Dr. Lawson was a most enthusiastic worker for the welfare of the school with probably the greatest source of information concerning its history. He was responsible for the story of the removal of CNC from Ladoga as given in the 1936 catalog, and was always most helpful whenever any occasion arose.

VOICE OF THE BELL

Everyone on campus knows what the bell sounds like and its meaning. Early in the morning, it tells Joa Hamblen, Dick Mote, Bill Nay, Sonny Knox, and many others to wake up because the lecture is over. To professors it means getting rid of one batch of sleepy-eyed zombies so that another can come in.

The cafeteria knows it as a signal for a mad rush. To Sue Johnson it means she has just ten minutes to get to class so she moves like greased lightning.

As a matter of fact, it is the "go" sign for some serious races to get to class before roll call. Few living things, other than some "Top Sergeants", get such fast response to their commands to get up and go.

The bell also means VICTORY! It was a beautiful sound on the sixteenth of November to hear that bell proclaim a Warrior triumph. And we remember when it pealed forth about 1:30 after the Anderson game that Laura Shapely started to get ready for church!

These are things we all know about the bell, but there are still others which are interesting. Earl Hudson rings it, but only in the mornings--he figures that people need more waking up then. Since Earl is rather light, he weights his feet so that he will be sure that he pulls the bell and that it doesn't pull him. The bell cord is not cord at all, but is a wire which is usually pulled for about eighteen or twenty strokes.

Being of a curious nature, the author decided to see the workings of the bell. The trip to see it is not worth it--especially if you are afraid of high places. However, yours truly felt that coverage was the best so up we went! Up the two flights in the Commerce Building through the old Crier room into the Tower.

As we watched from the tower we saw most of the school pass by--If you want to find anyone--even Mrs. Frazier--you will see them through the tower windows.

Yet we were not to the bell! Up a ladder, and through a trap door. We feel about as safe as we might walking a tight rope across the Grand Canyon.

CHAPLAIN'S CORNER

NO CHRISTMAS!!

"No Christmas" was the cry of Oliver Cromwell's soldiers as they went through the streets of London at this time of year arresting those who dared to observe the season by hanging greens or by merry making. The Puritans of our own country called the keeping of Christmas "Popery," because the very word Christmas, of Mass of Christ, was associated with the hated Church of Rome, with the days when the central observance of the birth of Christ was attendance on the mass.

All this seems foolish and far away to us today, and thank God all Christians have come back to an observance of Christmas which includes plenty of merry making and the singing of Christmas hymns and carols. But I think that protestant Christianity has yet another step to take in the recovering of a Christian observance of this day which saw the birth of our Saviour. At present, merry making and singing seem too often and largely to discharge our debt of gratitude for the Incarnation, or taking of flesh by God. It seems high time for those who love and follow our Lord to add, to the present observance of the day, public worship in His temple.

So it is our fervent hope and plea that those who read this will take time on Christmas Day to worship the new born King in a church where His birthday is observed, and that they will do something to get their own churches to observe this day. Here on the campus in St. Augustine's Chapel there will be a celebration of the Holy Communion at eight o'clock on Christmas morning.

The "Freshies" and Upper Classmen deserve medals or tower rooms at Seven Gables for their struggles up there.

But all is not secure yet. We climb still another ladder. This one narrower and more flimsy than the first! We chase out some bats before us. Obviously, nothing but bats would go up there!

Having strapped on our parachute, said a few prayers, and taken our air sickness pills, we examine the bell. To our amazement, it is made of iron. One of our freshmen--a steeple-jack-Jim Johnston--says there is no louder noise on earth than the iron clapper hitting the iron bell while you stand next to it with your knees shaking as hard as the tower. Having buoyed up our own nerve, we look over the inscription, "Cast by G. W. Coffine, Buckeye Foundry, Ohio." For that we risked life and limb!

It is said that the bell was moved here when the rest of the college was stolen from Ladoga. Any other information is lost in long-forgotten records.

The bell is as much a part of the traditions of the school as any part of it. CNC students have long been called by its tone. Now it is something old, still pealing to welcome something new--Canterbury

SNOOPER

There are a couple of boys from Chicago that seem very interested in Hilltop. Part of studying Architecture for pre-engineering no doubt!

Joy Lucas is very favorable to the Marine Officer that issues 15 day furloughs. Fifteen dates with Denson. Bill, that is.

Someone said Phyllis Stoller was in the taxi business, are you, Phil?

When Lou is asked about her date Wednesday night she just smiles.

Hopp had a good time at the dance too didn't you Hopp?

Jim Bill seems to have the high school girls all lined up. Both in Danville and Elwood. What will Janie think?

Copeland never wants to go uptown but when the rest of the kids are all ready she is ready to go with them. Who are you looking for? Gus.

Can you imagine Andy not eating dinner with his girl, My My Andy.

Who is this good looking girl Aubrey has been seen with lately, could she live at the Psi Chi House.

Mike is really getting around these days. First one and then the other. That's a lady killer for you.

One of our Zeta Sigma pledges seemed awfully happy Monday. Could it be he has become a papa??

What is the relation between Jack Lynch and Donna Collings. In ever direction I look I see them together.

Who is it Sonny Knox calls lover on campus?? He was at Spanish Class on time one day.

We wonder why Swack brings a different suit to school every Monday.

Why was Bless so excited when she came home from the dance? Ask Earl; he should know he was with her.

Who is the girl never seen without a man. How about it Rosie?

BALL STATE DEFEATS
CANTERBURY

The Warriors met the Ball State Cardinals at Muncie last Monday evening.

The first half started out very much in our favor and after the first few minutes Canterbury with the able assistance of Big Jim Springer, and the old reliable Beezy Gibbs, led 24 to 9. The game continued much on that basis until the half ended.

The second half went on with the Canterbury boys still pouring them through and held a 10 point lead with eight minutes to go. Then things started happening with Ball State capitalizing on four of our misses and cutting the lead to 1 point.

In the last three minutes Canterbury boys had cooled off until they couldn't even hit free throws. They missed four in a row. Ball State hit a long shot to put them in the lead for the first time. It happened to be the important time for they were able to hold the ball until the game ended with Ball State 51 and Canterbury 50.

DEFIANCE

The Canterbury basketball team defeated a tall Defiance ball team Saturday night before one of the best crowds ever seen in the Gym for a college game. The boys certainly gave them a beautiful exhibition of fine ball-handling and accurate shooting.

The Canterbury boys were never threatened throughout the entire game. Each of the boys were hitting and they looked as a ball-team should look.

Jim Springer set a new high in scoring for the college gym. He warmed up to hit 16 field goals and five free throws to make a total of 37 points.

The team as a whole shot 76 times and hit 29 for an average of .382 which was very good shooting.

The Canterbury Belles sang at the Fairfax Christian Church Friday evening at 8:00 for a Church Chili supper.

They also sang for the 101 Men's Mass of the Broadway Baptist Church Sunday morning and broadcast over WISH at 10:00 o'clock.

The Belles will sing at the wedding of Shirley Reitzel and William Pace Christmas eve.

Choir Rehearsal-Tuesday at 11:00. Please!

Carillonairs-Tuesday 12:00

Belles -- Tuesday -- 5:00

Please remember that all students on the campus are welcome and invited to go carolling Thursday evening leaving the music room at 6:30. If there are enough students to make several groups, we will be able to carol for all shut-ins and return for other engagements. If there are any students who would like to carol after they return from the Wabash game, hand your names to Miss Gaston before Thursday noon.

Sunday night at 10:00 P. M. Bob Pease was taken to Veterans' Hospital Fort Harrison for an emergency appendectomy. Examination showed this diagnosis to be doubtful and operation has been postponed until further tests have been made. At last report Bob was some better. We hope he continues to improve but fast!!

The boys at "Stop 133" are very broke this week, the poor things have to live on oysters and foamy water.

Tuesday night there should be some fireworks. All the Alpha Theta pledges have to have coke-dates, and somehow or other the men all got traded off to the wrong girls, or vice-versa.

We've just heard of a very unusual type of "bait." Now the boys are showing the girls, who are tied down, tickets to "Blossomtime."

There used to be a lot of talk about Yehudi and the little man who wasn't there "but now the topic of the day is Hughies "brother."

How they paired off at the Dance!

Engle and Buente, Bless, and Hudson, Mosier and Williams, Alward and Rogers, Boze and Meltzer, Shapley and Mote, Hopp and Hagen, Villers and Tomes, Hilderman and Wasson, Robeson and Collins, Stoller and Baird.

Little Willie in the best of sashes, Fell in the fire and was burnt to ashes, After awhile the room grew chilly, But no one wanted to poke up Willie.

It seems that certain Hilltop girls are making a slang dictionary of certain fellows. How about publishing it, girls?
