RECORD OF CORNER

LOCATION OF MONUMENT: SECTION ____, T. ____ N., R. ____

Found: __ Set: __ Depth: _____

Description: _____

Bearings to reference objects are magnetic unless a contrary mode is shown.

In June and July 1951, the undersigned was unable to find a monument for this corner after extensive surveying and digging. All of the old available surveys, including those of Trotter and Harvey, were investigated with no benefit resulting, so the search was abandoned. Numerous and conflicting pipes and railroad spikes have been set for this corner by subsequent surveyors without entries having been made therefor in the County Surveyor's Corner Record Book. On November 7, 1983, County Surveyor Alton Huntsman, his deputy David Roberson, Higbie Land Surveying (represented by owner Tony Higbie and his party chief Steve Maxwell and crew, in behalf of an adjoining landowner), and the undersigned (appointed by Mr. Huntsman under I.C. 36-2-12-11) renewed the search with much diligence. Once more digging did not find the original monument. None of the marks placed since 1951 was acceptable beyond a reasonable doubt and the position of the corner could not be determined from traces of earlier evidence nor from testimony of witnesses. Therefore, the location was presumed lost and it was restored by a single proportionate measurement between identified section corners north and south. The Higbie company supplied the survey and Mr. Roberson and the undersigned installed the new monument and took the references.
