FOREWORD:

The fourth Volume, the 1916 Centralian is complete. The Staff has labored hard to make it a success; We have done our best. The work has been hard, at times tedious and again discouraging, but we have pushed onward knowing full well that the joy of satisfying our readers will give us ample reward. Our chief aim has been to portray the year's events and the true Central Normal College Spirit. If we have done so, then success has crowned our efforts, and we shall be pleased. May it be deemed worthy of its predecessors.

—The Centralian Staff

VICE PRESIDENT H. M. WHISLER.

To

Prof. H. M. Whisler

whose earnest work has won the good will and respect of every student of Central Normal College
we dedicate the 1916

Centralian.

MAJOR JOSEPH B. HOMAN.

MAJOR JOSEPH B. HOMAN

An important event in the history of Central Normal College is the starting of the first Endowment Fund by the late Major Joseph B. Homan. The will provides for the turning over to the trustees of the Central Normal College 100 shares of the Indianapolis & Northwestern Traction Co. having a par value of $10,000, the bonds to be held in trust as an endowment fund. The trustees are required to give bond in the sum of twenty-thousand dollars to protect the stock.

Major Homan who was past seventy years of age at the time of his death was a leader in every activity in which he engaged. At the outbreak of the Civil War he enlisted in Company A. 7th Ind. as a private for three months service and was mustered out as a Corporal. He then enlisted in the 13th Regiment of Iowa and served until the battle of Shiloh where he was severely injured. After his recovery he helped to recruit a company from Hendricks County. He was commissioned Captain of Company H, and later was promoted to the rank of Major.

After the close of the war Major Homan engaged in the dry goods business in Danville until 1873 when he organized the Danville Banking Company, of which he was manager until 1884. For many years he was a power in Republican politics in the fifth district. At the time of his death he with his son was engaged in the real estate and loan business.

We realize how weakly this page does honor to the name of Major Homan, but we hope that in some measure it does homage to his memory.

As I was telling Illa—Ken.

J. W. LAIRD
President

History, Philosophy and English
Our President is one of those few men who can do everything without worry or haste. He is a thorough optimist, and has no sympathy for the "blues." His ever ready counsel, jovial humor, and air of comradeship make him beloved and much sought by all his students. His philosophy of life radiates from his every word and act. Assuredly he is the "straightest" man in the Faculty.

Page Twelve.

H. M. WHISLER
Vice-President

Head of Department of German
Yes, he is that gentleman with the quiet smile and slow, methodical speech. The most skilled language student soon feels his weakness in the presence of so learned a grammarian. His usual speech in Chapel is to tell the students how to fill out their cards and to put them in the College office. You might think him "riled" about this but he is only joking.

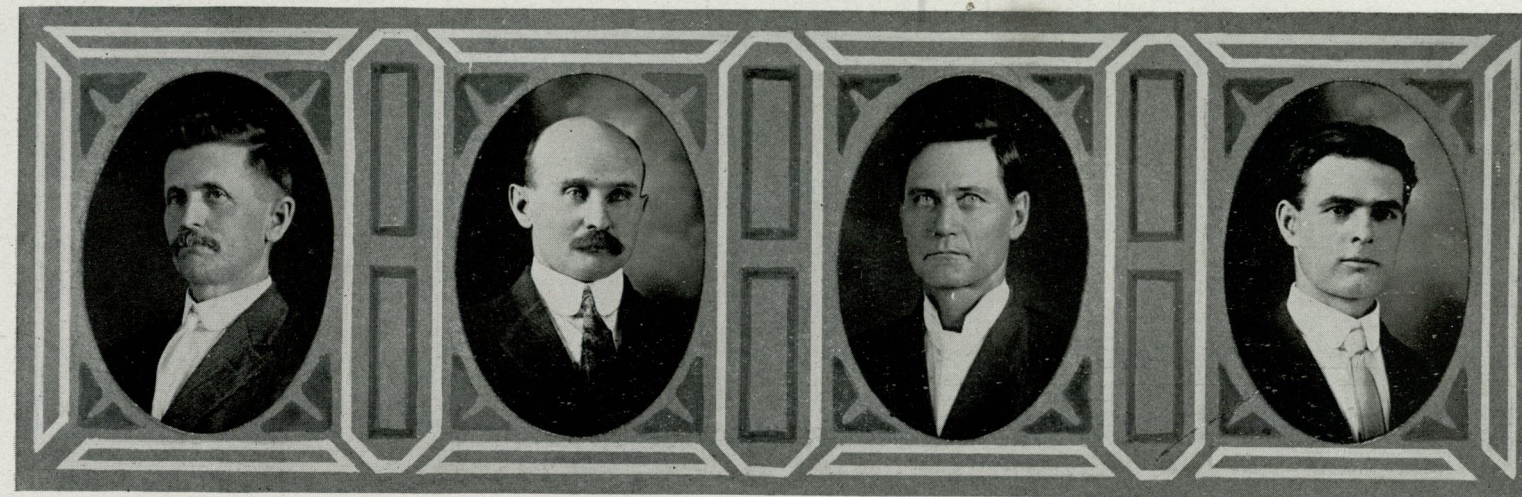

C. A. HARGRAVE
Secretary-Treasurer
Astronomy, Zoology, Higher Mathematics

Everyone knows "Uncle Charlie." His familiar figure is often seen carrying a globe or some other astronomical instrument. The stars bend to his will and the moon forsakes its orbit to teach him its mysteries. His wonderful store of knowledge and his interesting method of presentment, make his classes some of the most popular in school.

J. B. THOMAS
Biology and Geography

Professor Thomas's happy smile and kindly countenance fairly radiate into all parts of C. N. C. Though we often have to assure young students that he is not the grandfather of this mighty institution, they do not remain here long until they find out concerning his youthful inclinations. His great sense of humor helps beguile away many otherwise tedious recitation periods.

Prof. Thomas—The students' friend.

R. F. RATLIFF, A. M.
Physics and Chemistry

What a pity that pictures cannot portray action—our chemistry Prof. was never known to be inactive. Exacting and strict he seems at first, as he rigidly instructs to "follow the chart," but all soon learn the joke and grow to appreciate the discernment of the teacher and the kindly, jovial nature of the man. "Uncle Riley" is not only a friend of all the students, but he is the only "Friend" of the faculty.

L. J. DRIVER, A. M.
Head of Department of Education

Professor Driver is a man of high ideals and underneath his stern reserve he carries a kind and sympathetic heart. He is noted for his "snap" courses in Psychology and History of Education. His firmness and fairness have won for him many loyal supporters who respect, and honor him.

SOLON A. ENLOE
Head of Department of Law

"Prof." does the work of two men. He teaches four classes a day and maintains one of the leading practices before the Hendricks County Bar. His wide experience in the legal field enables him to present his subject in an highly interesting and impressive way. At times his voice can be heard throughout East Hall as he tries to coax some embryo attorney along the flowery pathway of the legal profession.

H. M. TOWELL
Bookkeeping and Penmanship

Prof. Towell is the penman of C. N. C. besides being an artist of ability. Even when flourishing a goose-quill to the astonishment of some less talented unfortunate, his head manages to maintain a certain artistic poise which incidentally insures the "set" of his glasses. It is said that he knows a little about bookkeeping and practices this art on commercial students in spare moments.

Page Thirteen

Mrs. E. E. OLCOTT

English and Special Teachers Training.

"The Little Mother of the College" is a great boon to all beginning teachers. Her knowledge of proper methods of teaching is unsurpassed anywhere in the state. This knowledge has put a great demand on her services as an institute instructor thruout the various counties of the state. Her leisure hours are spent in writing text books, and contributions to Educational Journals.

Page Fourteen.

FRED LUSCOMB.

Supervisor of Music.

"Daddy" is a good musician but his favorite pastime is riding a bicycle and kidding the Co-Eds. He is an adept at both too, for he never has had a puncture, or failed to make a hit. As a singer he sure can handle a bow.

FAY O. HORN.

Dean of Women.

The girls will never forget Miss Horn with her graceful air and her shy little laugh. She is a hard and earnest worker, and is a loyal supporter of student activities. In addition to "Deaning" she teaches Latin and English.

CAREY W. GASTON.

Mathematics.

Mr. Gaston had been our leading mathematician for sixteen years. He is a prominent attorney of Danville and despite the fact that he is a Republican shall be our next Prosecuting Attorney.

Pres. Laird—"A wonderful thing for the Institution."

L. C. WINTERNHEIMER.

German and Science

"Louie" is a valuable addition to the teaching force of C. N. C. He has a cheery smile for everyone and enjoys the good will of all. He is a true Dutchman with wit and spizerinctum enough to head all the departments. But due to the many other activities demanding his time, his work here is limited to German and Science. Among his other engagements, Mary is considered the most engaging.

Later: They're married now.

MRS. FRED LUSCOMB

Head of Piano Department

"And still the wonder grew"—this dignified and well poised faculty lady is the better half to "Daddy." He is "everything but the piano, and she is it." That the latter is true all will agree who have had the privilege of taking piano lessons under her. An able instructor and delightful companion, she wins the hearts of all her students.

IRA W. CONNOR

English and Mathematics

Our big, jolly Mr. Connor instructs the "girls and boys" in the essentials of English and Mathematics and entertains them at Chapel with his Victrola. He is with us only one term in the year but he is a hard worker and a booster.

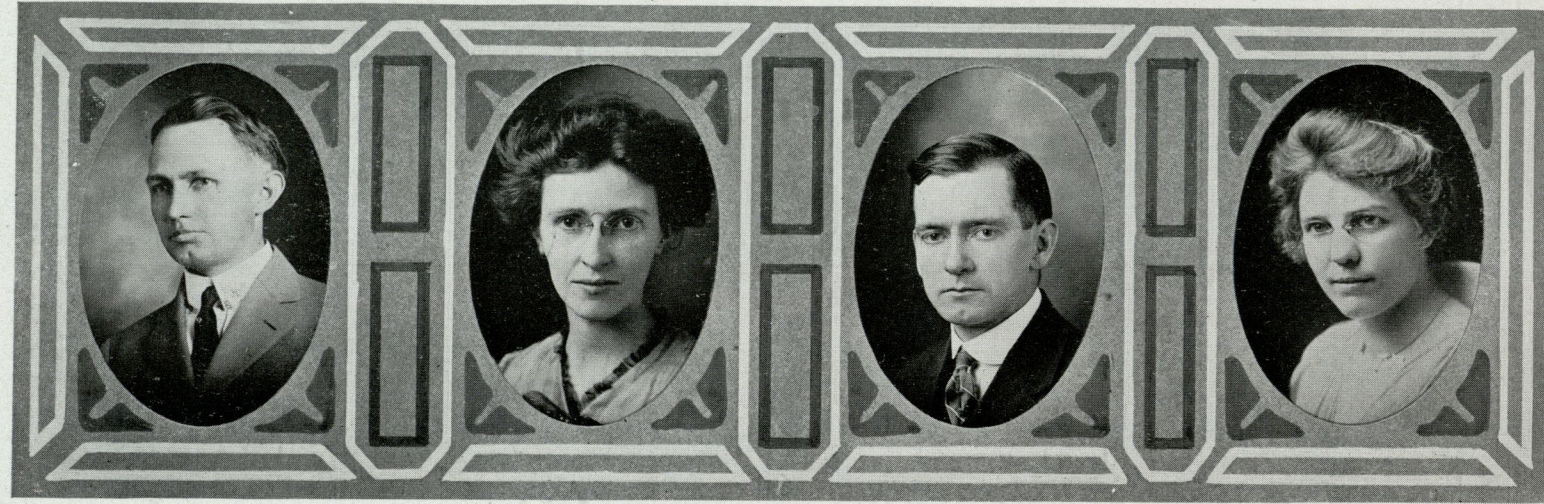

IRIS DEAN GASTON

Piano and Organ

Comparatively few of the students have the privilege of making this lady's acquaintance. She is one of those personages who helps others on the musical way and though the tiresome "one, two and three" sometimes drives us almost distracted, we know that she is only attempting to make the way of the world more musical.

Page Fifteen

Harley Manlief—When I was at lake Geneva, etc, etc.,

G. E. LOCHMULLER

Assistant in German

German in name, Herr Lochmuller is indeed German in speech. He makes remarkable efforts to lead us into the language of the Deutschland. One of our favorite Chapel Exercises is his Swiss "Yodle Song". He is a booster for Greater C. N. C.

MRS. H. M. TOWELL

Music and Art

Mrs. Towell is a quiet little lady, who believes in drawing every thing one sees. Art is to her a great and mighty ideal and she attempts to help some of the poor misguided students of C. N. C. find the road to fame along the path of Art.

WALTER D. SMITH

Manual Training and Agriculture

A short, quiet man who moves in and around the College with a quiet and determined look. He has a big place in the hearts of those students who are fortunate enough to know him.

LEONA STEWART

Assistant in Domestic Science

Miss Stewart is the newest, the youngest, and the prettiest Faculty member. She is of the type of womanhood from which come ideal home-makers and we are sure she won't end her days teaching school.

D. T. CUSHMAN

Education and Latin

Professor Cushman is never mistaken for any of the other Professors for his great height and mighty stride rightly distinguish him as the one and only "Cushie". He believes thoroughly in study, work and the improvement of every opportunity. His pupils never cease to be grateful to him for the many great lessons of life which he drops during the recitation period. His smile, though seldom, is ever ready to show his appreciation of a good joke.

FYRNE HOLTZCLAW CONN

Typewriting and Stenotypy

Besides leading Chapel singing in a high soprano voice, Mrs. Conn is the able overseer of the typewriter punishers. Being the most athletic lady member of the faculty she has taken a great part in interesting the girls in athletics.

N. R. VAN CLEVE

Public Speaking, History and Rhetoric

Professor Van Cleve has been with us only a short time but he has already made many warm friends. He is a hard mental worker so in order to make sure that he is getting sufficient physical exercise, he drives his Ford around the square three times daily.

ETHEL MEANS

English (Summer Term Only)

Our Miss Means, quiet, reserved, and caring naught for public honor unconsciously spreads about her the influence of a beautiful personality. She tells us that that "in order to teach, one must have a soul." She is proving the truth of her statement in her own effective teaching. We only wish she might be with us throughout the year.

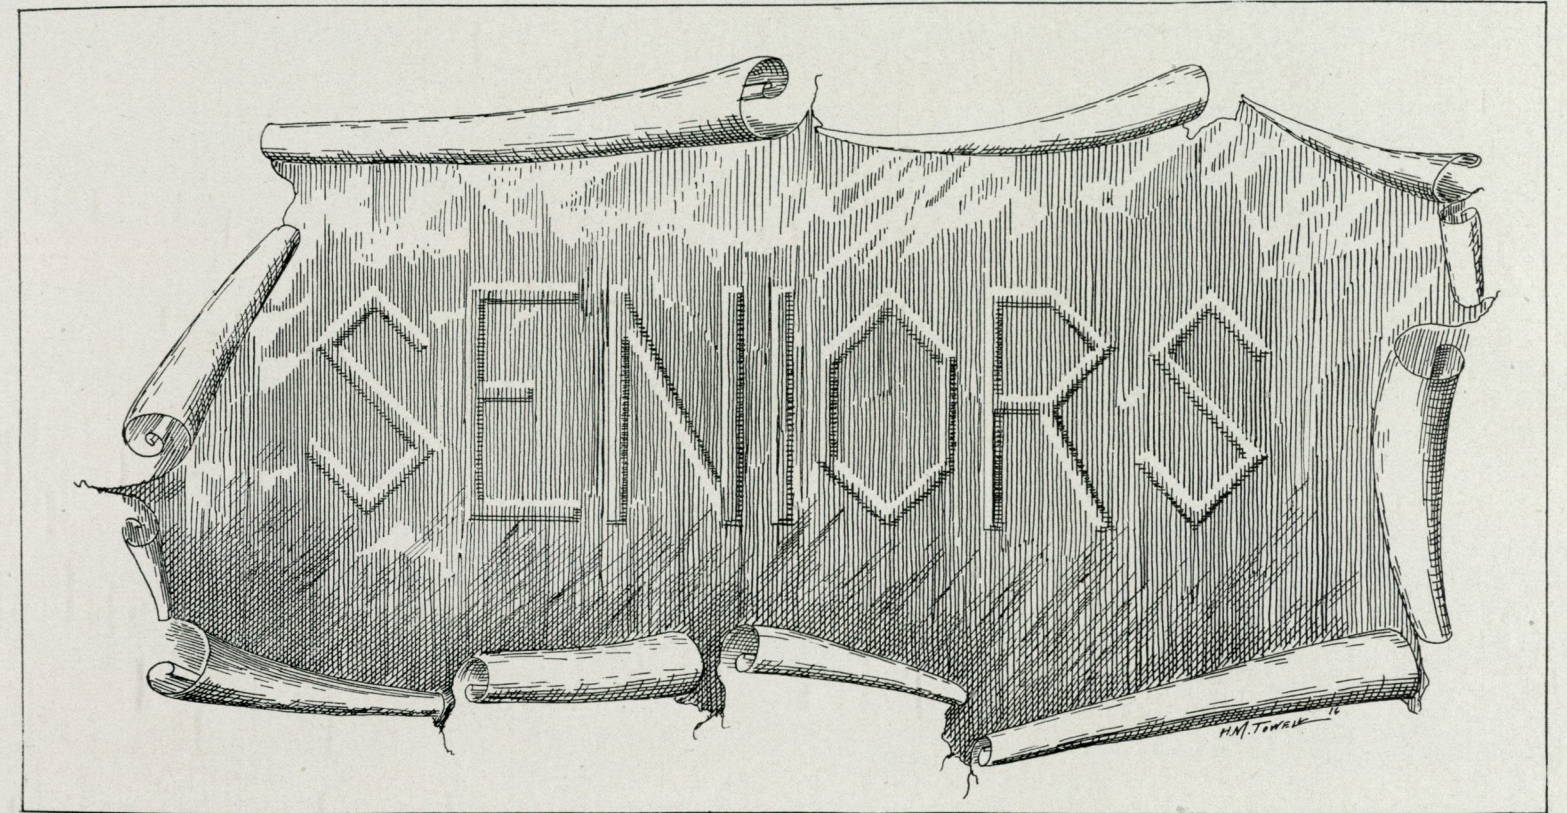

R. EARL SWINDLER, A. M.
History and English

Professor Swindler is a big man with a little body. He has an extensive knowledge of History and his students say that he really enjoys teaching it. He always spends his vacations in the hills of Arkansas at hunting and fishing.

AGNES TILSON
Home Economics

Miss Tilson knows Home Economics from vanilla to vinegar. Her knowledge of the subject also enables her to make her girls work harder than the hardest. But when she learned that "School is the only place where people do not want their money's worth" she lightened their work.

CHARLES A. DODD

Besides being President of the Bachelors P. B. K., "Dodd" is also a great lady fusser. He is a demon for work never being known to come to class without a well prepared lesson. Dodd will be remembered here for a long time for he has always been a leader in every phase of college life.

LAURA McCracken.

"Cracker" with her Irish wit and jokes is known all over her county. She paid laboratory fees one term just for the privilege of sitting on one of the chemical tables and telling stories while the "other boys" worked.

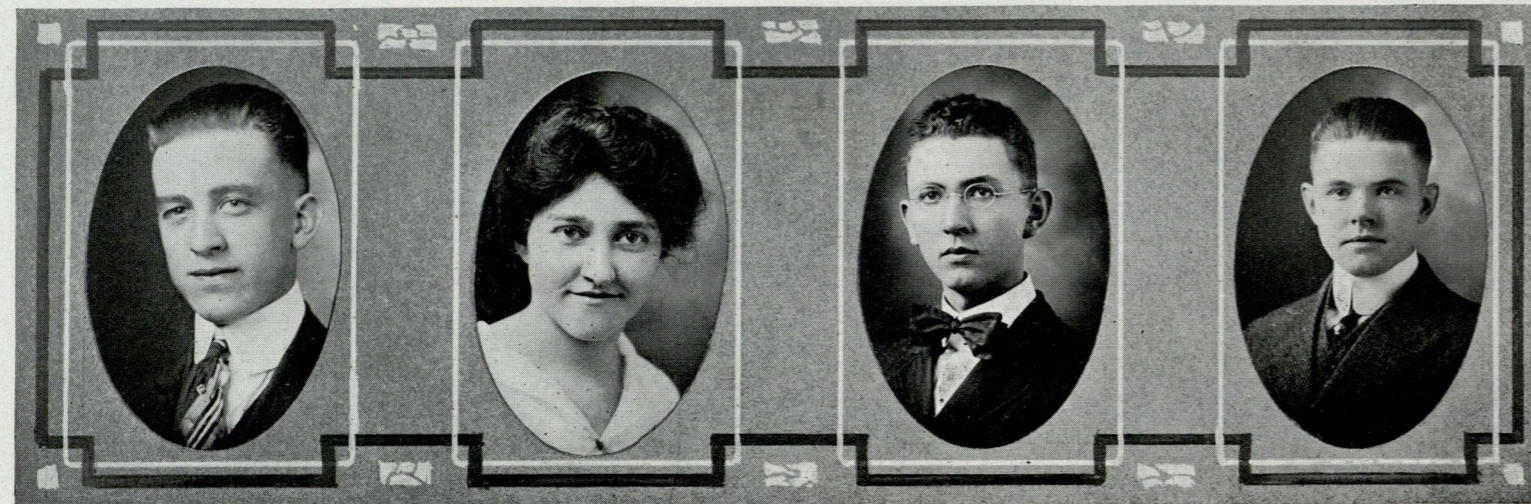

Laura is a member of the student council, one of the star basket-ball players, and always active where a student should be active.

FORREST FARIS.

After teaching a successful school Faris decided to come to C. N. C. the summer term to get his A. B. He tried to take everything in the curriculum but finally was persuaded that seven credits in one term were enough. Forrest is an unpretentious fellow who gets by on what he knows.

STANDARD
NORMAL

H.M.T.

CHAS. F. OVERPECK.

"Peck" is a part of everything important that ever happens in college. At present he is President of the class, a Ciceronian, R. and S., Librarian, and patrol of Indiana St. He no doubt will have an M. D. after his name some day.

ANNA HOCKER.

Anna is one of those girls with whom we would scorn to find fault. She is popular with everyone and is a faithful and able participant in numerous college activities. Let us hope, for the betterment of mankind that she will not always remain so true to her vows as a "Maid."

FOREST WHEELER.

Wheeler is a big man from every standpoint. Stalling isn't in his program. He is a thorough student, one of whom we are justly proud. He is a member of the R. and S., the Ciceronians and the College debating team.

CHARLES A. DODD.

Dodd is the ex-editor-in-chief of the Centralian and Booster. He likes Danville too well to get very far away so he expects to teach in the county the coming year. Some day Dodd expects to enter the Law profession.

FORREST FARIS.

Faris is a member of the Ciceronian and R. and S. Societies. He has always been one of the active members of the Student Body. He has made his latest bid for fame as manager of the interclass debating tournament, but he will be remembered the longest as C. N. C's. one example of consistent attention to Laura.

LAURA HASTINGS.

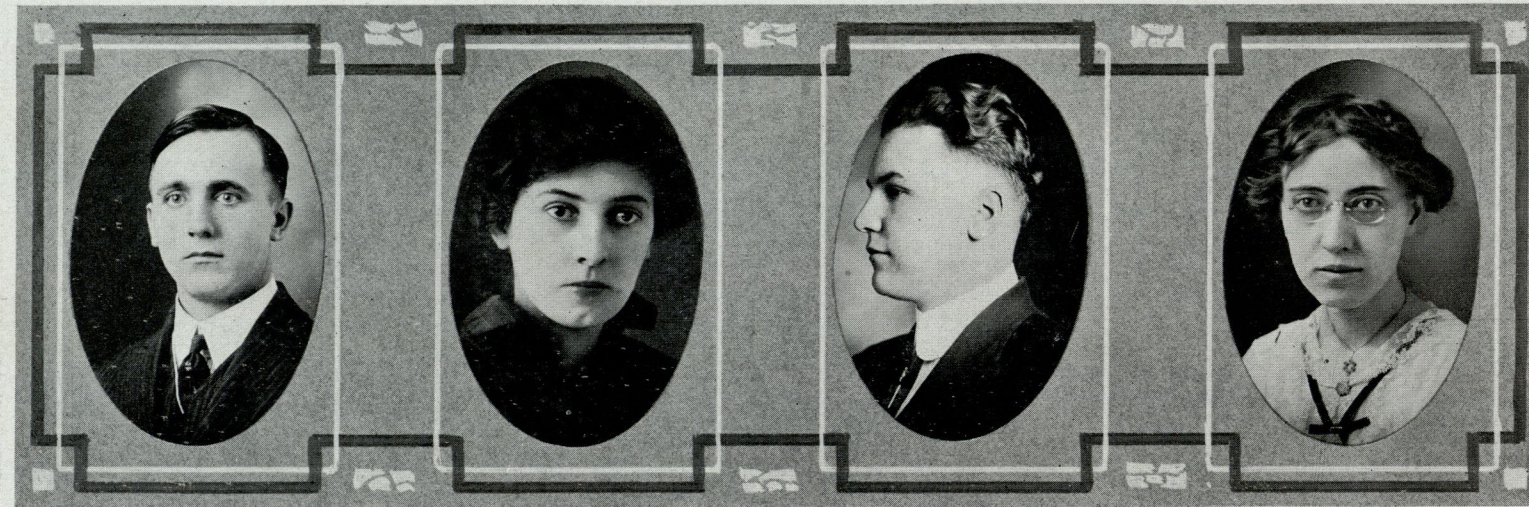

The little girl who slips about so easily that no one except Faris knows where to find her at all times. She carries the biggest bunch of books in school and despite counter attractions, digs out the core of each of them. Her wit, loyalty and all the qualities of a good student place her in the 'necessary' class of the institution.

RANDALL INMAN.

Like Ichadob Crane, Randall is all length and little width. Randall had always been one of the girl shuners until Tillie led him from the haunts of Bachelorhood. Randall has ridden the R. and S. Goat, and came off with flying colors. He never fails to buy two tickets to an athletic event.

ERNEST OWENS.

"Brick" Enlow's growler, you can hear thru out C. N. C. when there is an argument on. He is a member of the C. T. C., the Law Debating Team, also the R. and S. and has the well established record of being the last one served at Riggins' beanery for breakfast.

ORVILLE MOORE.

Orville is one of those sterling young men who draw friends at first sight. Orville says he owes much to C. N. C., for while in school here, he met his one and only affinity. Besides carrying four solids, he takes Livy or other such Latin as a drill. He is a member of the Ciceronian C. T. C.

MARY MARTIN.

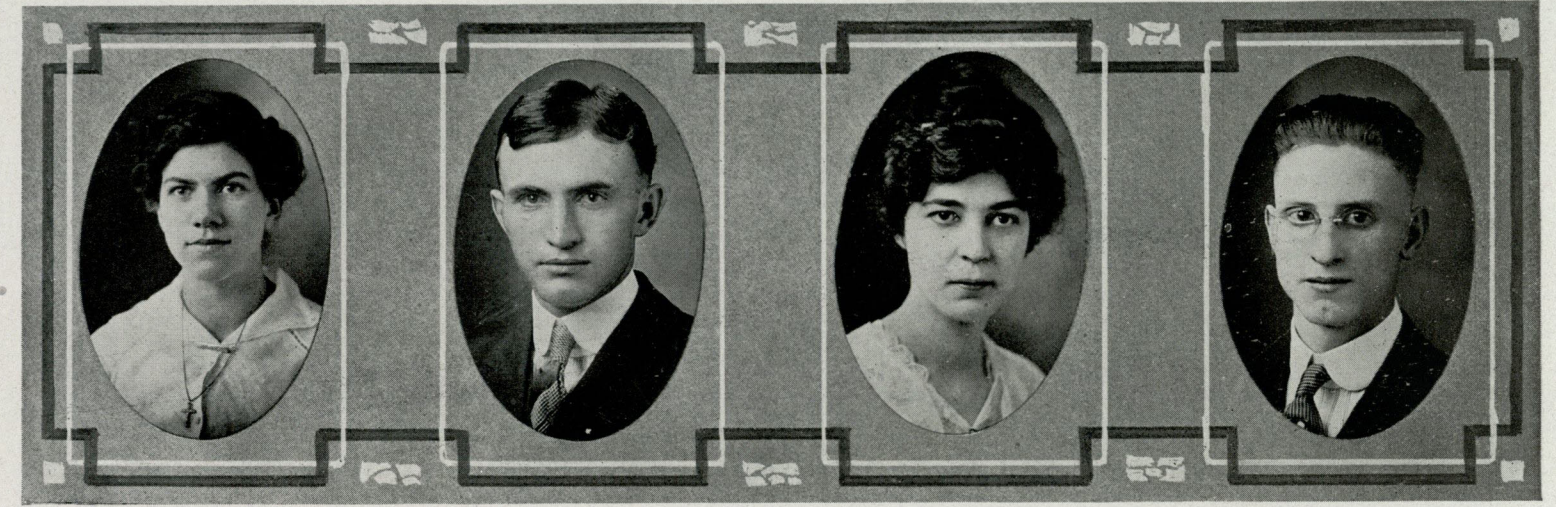

We all know Mary by her quiet and dignified way, and her brown eyes by which she wins the love of her classmates. Mary has good intentions and shows her wisdom by keeping these good intentions to herself. It is said she has a desire to enter I. U. for two reasons.

HERBERT THOMAS.

"Thomas" figures that size counts for something as he is the largest one in our class. Thomas is a student of long and good standing never has much to say but his meaning is sometimes hard to measure. He can hardly be considered "in the roll of common men."

ANNIS GOODACRE.

Busy always, but ever ready to help wherever she is needed. She does not measure up to her name in size but does in quality. Her loyal work in the Y. W. will make her long remembered.

LAURA McCracken.

Although Laura's main hobby is athletics, she can also use her brains as her progress in school rightly denotes. We feel sure that Laura will succeed if she throws her self half as heartily into her life work as she has in the work and play at C. N. C.

HARVEY HARTLEY.

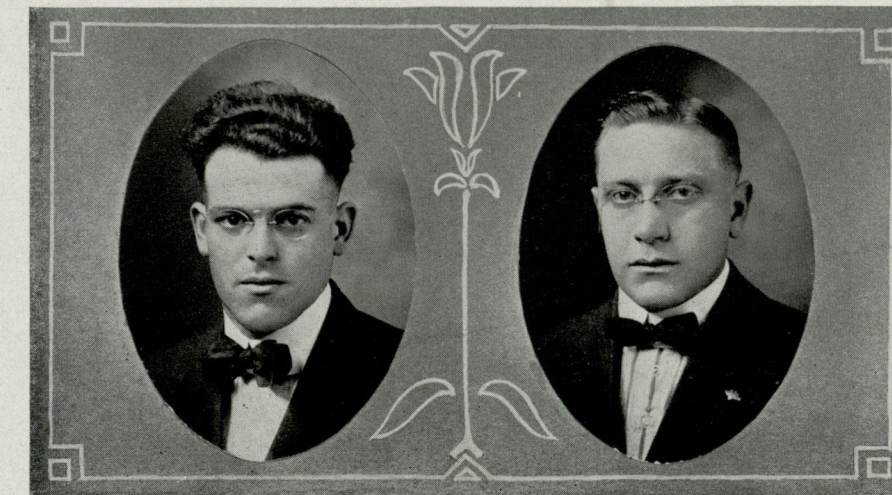

Hartley is of the reserved type of man, but is recognized as a true friend to those who are able to make his acquaintance. We are sure he will make a successful teacher.

ELIZABETH HERT.

Are you afraid when you hear her name? Well, just look into her big gentle eyes and you soon become aware of a "peacefulness and you are no longer afraid of "Hert." Bessie's good-natured jolly laugh cheers you at all dark moments and you feel her strong guiding hand in all she undertakes.

J. HERMAN BAKER.

You do not have to call Mr. J. Herman Baker, just say, "Ja Herman," "Bake," "Red," or "Baker" and you will get him. He is seen with the lawyers a great deal but look at his hair (red?) his glasses and general make-up and you will see a genuine Southern Hoosier School-teacher. He is a member of the R. and S.

ELZA A. HEITMEYER.

A. J. KAHL.

President of the Law class 1916.

After browsing around in musty volumes and gathering a few scattered facts from them, also acting as Prof. Enloe's official goat for three or four years, "Heit" decided this year that he could lay a valid claim to a sheepskin. Elza has worked diligently for the Law Class, even going so far as to don a basket-ball suit(?) to help defend the honor of the class in the Inter-Class games. His cross-examinations can always be depended on to add to the interest of Moot Courts in which he takes part. With his never ending desire to "argify and his industry and ability to gather evidence, we expect to run over to Oregon some time and find Elza and his brother a successful law firm.

"Archie" since his election to the Presidency at the first of the year has worked untiring to make the Law Class one of the biggest features of C. N. C. When he had overlooked the small matter of preparing his lesson, Kahl has been known to argue with "Uncle Solon" the whole recitation period over some unimportant point. "Happy" believes that "A little crookedness now and then, is relished by the best of men." His classmates accuse him of voting for himself in several class elections. "Happy" hath let it be known on several occasions that he is a member of the Clark County bar, but as to who the other member of his firm may be, he has never told us her name.

WALTER MILLER.

If you see a broad smile on a rather pale face which is the front-piece a small head nicely balanced on about the tallest slimest frame you ever saw, that is Walter Miller. That his smile is attractive is evident from the number of dates he has in C. N. C. That he is a man of capability is evident from the fact that he is now holding down a good position in Columbus Ohio.

FLOYD SEWARD.

Seward commonly known as "Neut" is the ladies' man of the class. This is probably explained by the fact that it takes him only one third as long to prepare his lessons as it does ordinary people. As a penman he sure can cipher.

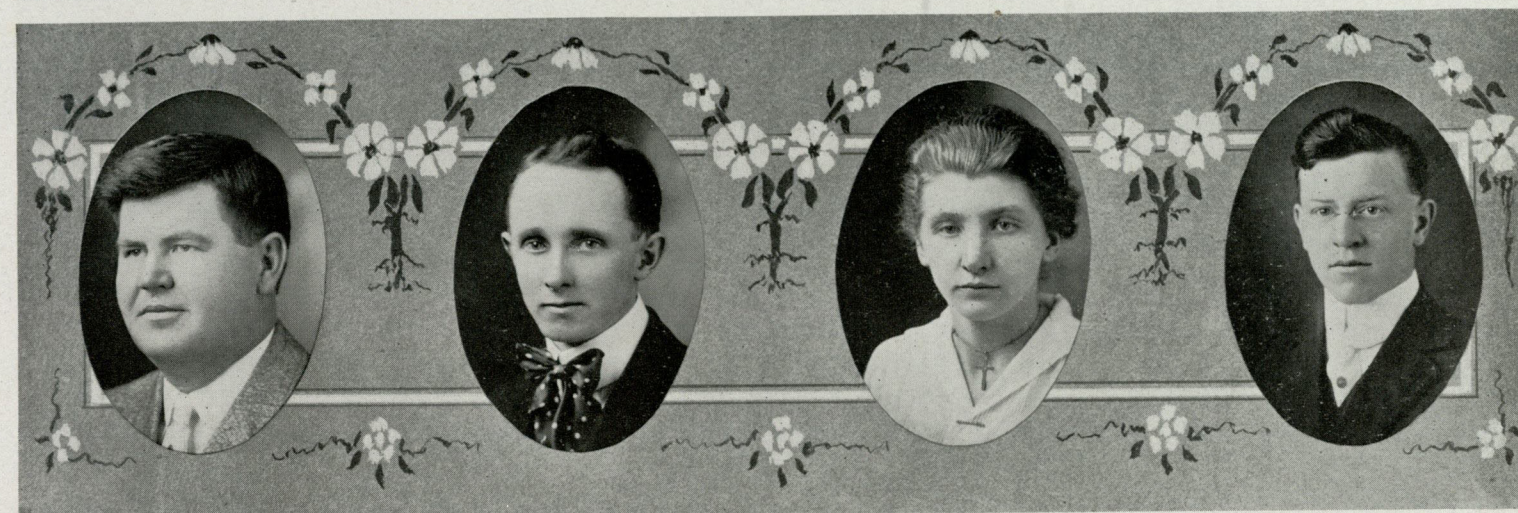

ROBERT G. NORTHWAY.

Robert is one of those quiet fellows who never speaks unless he has something important to say. Once seen, you can never forget his smile. He never worries except over his love affairs.

Robert is an office-boy at present but better known as a night watchman. He is a member of the Y. M. C. A. cabinet, R. and S. and Ciceronian C. T. C. Societies.

EARL TAYLOR.

The man who enjoys the distinction of never having walked up, down, or across the street alone. He is noticed because of his constant smile which always wins the second glance and admired because of his talent as a musician. Taylor is a typical ladies' man. We don't know whether he has any ability along commercial lines or not.

JOHN W. COX.

"Laugh and grow fat" indeed applies to John. John says he is going to be a business man and spend his leisure time on roller skates. He believes in preparedness and to this end has secured a life long helper. We predict a successful career if he holds to his theory. He is a member of the R. and S. and Y. M. C. A. cabinet.

WILLIAM C. JONES.

Jones is a genuine true blue. He has ideas of his own which he is not afraid to back up. He made many friends while in college who wish him a successful business life.

ALMA YAGER.

Alma is a diligent and untiring worker. She is a popular member of the Commercial Class and is known outside as a quiet and lady like young woman. Many type-written notebooks of various students go to prove that she has time to serve others as well as self.

J. HOWARD BINNS.

Binns or "Red" is so quiet that no one but his classmates knew he was in college until he had graduated. Quietness is no defect with Binns however for we understand that he has secured an excellent position.

JEWELL LEAK.

Do you know him? Yes, this is Jewell Leak, the pride of the Commercial Class. Jewell is well skilled in the art of soliciting new students for he believes that if you fail to land one, just try and try again. The path he has worn thru the grave yard leads to—??? What's the use, we all know

RUTH MOSIER

"The queen is dead, long live the queen," Ruth has been the "Queen of Commercials" since Christmas, and it will be along time before another will be found to take her place. Ruth is a home girl, having graduated from D. H. S. this spring.

MURIEL REED.

Muriel is one of the few who have graduated from Commercial before graduating from High School. It is rumored that her intentions are to use her commercial knowledge in the process of house-keeping.

D. L. GARRISON.

Garrison is our only "Sucker" having first seen the sun light somewhere in Illinois. He has upheld the "Sucker" slogan gloriously, for he is the hardest worker that ever graduated from this department. He is cashier of a bank in his native town now.

NELLIE MEEK.

Nellie really isn't so quiet and timid as she looks. Behind her great brown eyes is a love of fun and mischief. But lessons are of greatest importance with Nellie and she has rightly distinguished herself in the classroom. Her motto is "Duty first then pleasure."

MAYME HADLEY.

Mayme is a little "Quaker maid" who never had an enemy. She was elected President of the Y. W. C. A. because the girls knew they would have a leader. Mayme is popular with the students and is a hard worker.

LAURA McCracken

Some students have the idea that Laura isn't very domestic, but just ask her who makes her clothes. "Mac" is as full of fun as the day is long and is always ready to help anyone. Her specialty is teasing.

TENNIS COMMONS.

We doubt not in the least that Tennis is a good housekeeper. She does good work, wastes no time, and is a good manager. Though caustic and abrupt, she is a brilliant student, and to those who know her she proves a lovable and unselfish friend.

As a snowball in June, so is the life of an A. There have been four generations in this school year of C. N. C. The first generation set a high mark in Athletics, when they held the championship in Basket-ball, and their successors have striven earnestly to follow their example. The fact that they took the events in the inter class meet seems to show this fourth generation worthy of their ancestors.

The B's are a species of short lived students. They develop by a more or less derived metamorphosis from the A's. Through their system is found sufficient traces of chlorophyl, to make itself evident their relationship to the A's. For a long time Scientists were puzzled to know what became of the B's, and for a while it was taught in our schools, that they died a natural death, from inability to take intellectual nourishment. But recent researches have disclosed the presence of undeveloped pedagogical organs, seeming to resemble those found in C's. The theory is now generally accepted that they finally develop into C's.

Colors—Maroon and Straw.

The Class C's are the veterans of the Normal Courses. They organized early in the fall, and soon distinguished themselves by adopting the A. B's. or College orphans. They have spent their time well in their studies, but believing that all work and no play makes Jack a dull boy, they have had their share of good times. The New Year Watch Party at the home of Miss Veda Coombs, and the Easter Egg Roast held upon the gardens of this same lady, together with the Hay-ride to North Center and the Old Fashioned party at the home of Miss Mary Martin, will long be remembered by all C's. While in Athletics, they have striven hard with the Law's for the cellar championship, whether it be basket ball, base ball, or track, yet they accept their defeats with good sportsmanship, and believe with George Ade, "that it matters not how hard you hit the ground, if you come up with a bounce."

The purpose of the Young Woman's Christian Association is to unite the women of the college in a close bond of friendship and to develop the ideal type of Christian Womanhood. It is almost universally true that the best students, and the most capable and efficient girls in the college are found as active workers in the Y. W. C. A.

Another year of the life of our College Y. M. C. A. has passed. In looking back over the past year at the work accomplished, the things hoped for, and the results that have been attained, one can truly say the Y. M. C. A. has grown by leaps and bounds. Never before have the students supported the association as they have this year. The Bible class has been interesting to those who have attended.

The success of our Y. M. C. A. has been due largely to the efforts of one man; a man that has tried his best to make a greater Y. M. C. A. and a man that has succeeded. Many an hour has he labored and tried to solve the problems that have confronted him, but with that determination to win, which has characterized him, he has at last won out. This man is Harley Manlief, our President, and to him we give the credit and praise for the success of our Y. M. C. A.

The Slam Bang Tennis Club was organized primarily for athletic interests and incidently for social purposes. The membership is composed of fourteen persons who are all devotees to that most engrossing game of tennis—which deals most happily with 'love' and 'courtship' and more sadly with 'faults' and 'double faults.'

The Slam Bangers have had many an enjoyable occasion both in the miraculous feats of the game, and in initiating some of the unsophisticated into the life, liberty and pursuit of health and happiness in the club.

Some of our members, namely Miss Pattison, Mr. Slusser and Mr. B. Harrison distinguished themselves in the tennis tournament held here last fall. Our slogan is "Tennis and better tennis for C. N. C."

STUDENT COUNCIL

STUDENT COUNCIL

It has always been the policy of the Central Normal College to be as democratic as is consistent with the proper management of such as educational institution. The students are led to do a very large amount of administrative work under official supervision. And in harmony with this policy, the Board of Trustees, late last year passed a resolution providing for the election of a Student Council, as an executive body representing the students of the school. The membership of the Council consists of five students and two members of the faculty. It controls directly, the management and publication of the Booster and Centralian and all matters for which the student body is held responsible. It, also sits in council upon questions arising out of the relation of the several student organizations. In this, the first year of the Students Council, it has proven its worth and effectiveness. It is one of the results of the new progressive spirit that pervades the College.

The Athletic Association this year has outstripped its predecessors both in membership and in the number of responsibilities assumed. It has striven to arouse a greater interest in athletics among the students and on the whole, its efforts have been crowned with success. The membership is nearly a hundred, with a number of girl members as well as merchants of the town and members of the Faculty. The organization has developed a spirit of cooperation and support among the business men, so that nearly every store window displays the sign of "Booster for Central Normal College Athletics." The President, Mr. Bledsoe, has sought to make the C. N. C. Athletic Association an efficient and responsible organ for the betterment of athletic relations between the students and with other schools.

Early in the year, a movement was started to gain admission into the Indiana College Athletic League. To accomplish this end, which would give C. N. C. a bigger place in the athletic activities of Indiana Colleges, a few differences had to be adjusted, and the guidance of C. N. C. athletics placed in responsible hands. Represented as she is by strong teams, and maintaining a high standard of sportmanship, the prospects are bright for her admission at the next I. C. A. L. meeting in December.

The C. N. C. A. A. has always stood for clean playing, and encourages a friendly feeling to "let the best man win." It believes that "sportsmanship" is fair minded human competition in which the winner gains applause for ability and the spirit of his play rather than for the mere observance of rules.

BASKET BALL SEASON OF 1915-16

On the night of December 11th, the Varsity appeared on the floor to confront the hardest schedule a C. N. C. team had ever been called upon to face. But they were well prepared, for Small and Brown had come up from Marco, Ind., and brought with them three of their school mates. "Bill" Cross could toss baskets as easily as he could toss hay; Turpin froze to every man in sight and "Tubby" Shake could pop up in most unexpected places his guard could imagine. Then "Tommy" donned a Varsity suit for his last season and came back with his old speed. As for Brown, a glance at the score sheet will show where he stands as a forward. Cap-

The London Independents were the first to down the hemlock by a score of 44 to 17. Tawm's team always comes over once a year to get beat by C. N. C. then he helps us play base ball in the summer. As was expected, the team met defeat at the hands of Wabash on the 14th. But a chunk was heaved into the camp of the skeptics when the Varsity invaded the booze burg and walloped State Normal, 35-25. To fill a gap in the schedule, Plainfield was played and beaten and on the 7th day of 1916, the Earlham five saw the little end of a 22 to 35 score. Again we invaded Terre Haute and this time Rose Poly was the victim, 45 to 30. The mighty Em-Roes asked us over for the evening and we returned the compliment by giving them a 46 -24 victory. The victory over Plainfield was repeated and the following Monday night the Em-Roes came out and were given the scare of their young lives, for a part of the game at least. Cross was laid out in the second half, when we were only four points behind the champions, and this helped them to get a 39 to 27 victory.

The Varsity machine ground out a defeat for the Winona "Aggies" by a score of 27. On Jan. 29 Indiana was handed a terrible jolt when they were 40 smothered under a 99-8 lacing administered by the locals. On February 12, revenge was sweet for the defeat the Purple had suffered at the hands of the Indiana Dentals at Indianapolis on the 18th of January. So this time the score was doubled on the Tooth pullers and honors for the season were again even.

part of the game but the tragedy ended with the score 37 to 16 against us. The next night, the Huntington Emeralds, the weakest team on the circuit, cages 50 points while the best the visitors could do was 31. Small sprained his ankle and was forced to withdraw from the game. Cross took his place and Coach Peyton went in at center. A line on "Bill's" guarding may be obtained from the fact that his forward slipped through him for 12 field markers in the last half. At this place Peyton had to leave for Indianapolis and the team went on to Fort Wayne to play the fastest team they were to face. With only six men and the manager and two disabled and the rest weary, the prospects were not bright for a victory over the Lyceum Feds. Small went in and played on his sore ankle

On the following Monday, the team went up to North Salem and came off with a 32-14 victory.

Then came the disastrous trip up north. There must have been a jinx along, for after the first game the stock of the team began to sink. Dodd took his proteges off Tuesday the 15th and headed for Hartford City to play the first game. The machine worked smoothly in this contest and drew a clean sheet by a score of 44 to 18. But the next night the Tipton Independents put a monkey wrench in the gear-box and put C. N. C. in the 500 class. Thomas was taken sick and Shake was put in. Peyton played a and at the end of the time the score stood 7-11 with the Feds 4 points in the lead. Worn out by their three strenuous games on as many nights, the Centrals allowed every member of the opposing team to slip through and score, giving us a defeat of 47-15. After a short rest, the boys went to Franklin and gave that team a scrappy game but were unable to find the basket. The game went to Franklin 39 to 17. On the 25th of February the curtain was rung down on the hardest and yet the most successful season the Teacher quintet has ever played. The closing attraction was the return game with Rose Poly and the Engineers were outclassed from the start. They were unable to hold the Teachers and the whistle found the home team on the heavy end of a 59 to 24 tally.

Thus ended the season of 1915-16 with "Bill" Cross tossing the first and last baskets. The success of the season is in a great measure due to the work of Coach Peyton. He built up a solid and smooth-running machine of five men, instead of depending on one individual star to make the team. One star is helpless against a machine of five men, and the slogan of "Every man get a man" proved its worth in twelve out of twenty games.

The Base Ball Season of 1916.

A college is always prone to praise a laurel-winning team, but we are now to sound the praises of a team that was not always victorious, whose return from the fields of their opponents has not always been accompanied by an extra base-ball—once the property of vanquished opponents—but whose career attained the high standard of clean sportsmanship, and whose very gameness in the face of defeat has won for it the respect of its rivals, the admiration of the home supporters and the self satisfaction that can only come from the knowledge that it has done its best for Central Normal.

Bigham was elected Manager about the last of February by the A. A. and went to work immediately on a schedule. Fogarty was chosen as coach for the team and he arrived about a week after the opening. He went to work at once to construct a machine around the old material, that would defend the honor of the Lavender and Purple on the diamond. Rust, Robinson and Fogarty were all the veterans that donned the suits, but new men came out until the eve of the opening game saw the squad numbering twenty players. Rust was chosen captain to lead the team for the season.

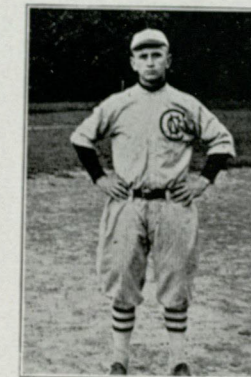

The first contest was fought on the 6th of May with the Butler nine. Some jinx must have hovered around this first game and cast a spell over the whole season. In the last half of the first inning, after Butler had been retired, two of the visitors collided on the field when trying to get under a high one between first base and right field. The right-fielder was knocked unconscious and sustained severe injuries about the face and head. The second baseman also was injured about the head but was able to accompany the team back to Indianapolis. The mishap took all the pep out of the Christians and Rust pitched a no-hit-no-run, 5-0 shutout against them.

Rust was able to hold the State Normals but the Centrals could not take advantage of their opportunities and bunch a sufficient number of bingles in any one inning to garner any tallies. Rust, in the last half of the game showed the effects of the Butler game and gave place to Blue. But the latter slab artist was not in the best of condition and allowed the visitors to swat the pill for four runs in the eighth.

Earlham came over on the following Saturday, May 13th, to cross bats with the Teachers. The contest was one of the most exciting ever seen on the home field as the result was indoubt until the thirty-third out was made. The tally stood 1-0 at the end of the fourth but the locals started things in the fifth and had crossed the plate twice, putting the Teachers one run ahead. The sixth and eighth frames brought runs to both teams and at the end of the period the score stood 5-4 with the Centrals in the lead. But timely slugging by the visitors make an extra inning necessary, the tally showing 6-6. In the tenth, niether side saw first base. The Normalites weakened in the eleventh and let in two runs, but a rally was nipped in the bud in the last half of the frame, and the Quakers were given an 8-6 decision.

After a week's hard practice, the Teachers went to Richmond to invade the camp of the Quakers, on May 20th. This contest was a heart-breaker. The first six men up of the Teachers got hits and it seemed that the game would be a walkaway for the visitors. The score stood 8-2 in favor of the visitors whenthe Quakers came to bat in the "fatal fifth." To make it brief, the Quakers had 13 runs when the frame finally came to an end. Before the game was finished, Myers, Rust, Blue, Tatum, and Lofton had been on the mound for the Teachers. The final score was 19 to 8.

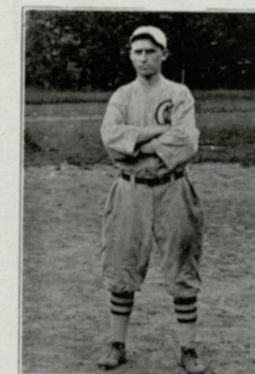

After some more hard practice and a few changes in the line up, the team made its way over to Franklin and there had a complete reversal of form. The visitors battled with the Franklin nine for twelve long innngs and were beaten by the close score of 4-3. C. N. C. again lost on account of weak batting. Fifteen men fanned the air on Beard's delivery.

The season was late in getting started this year and the schedule has progressed slowly for various unavoidable reasons. Of late the team has bettered its batting and has shown more snap than was exhibited at former games. Although the team has won but one contest, the spirit they have shown in the face of defeat will not go unrewarded and we believe the future holds what the past has not supplied—victories.

TENNIS SEASON OF 1915-16

In accord with its policy of enlarging the field of athletic activities in Central Normal, the Athletic Association this year decided to add outdoor Tennis to its list of sports. Work was started soon after school commenced in the Fall to arouse interest in the net game. It was decided to hold a Tournament about the last of the season, in which all the students would be allowed to participate. Before this time little had been done to arouse interest in this popular game and no concerted action had been taken. Kenneth Easley was selected as manager, by the executive committee, for this branch of recreation. A call was issued for entries and about fifteen responded. The first tournament was started on October 23rd and finished on the 30th. The winners were as follows:

GIRLS' ATHLETICS

Before the year 1916, the College has not found the time or means to give much extensive thought to athletics among the fair sex. This year, mostly through the work and thought of President Bledsoe, the Athletic Association decided to take in girls as members of the Association believing that by so doing a greater number might be benefited. The girls took advantage of their membership to participate in the Tennis Tournament soon after school began last fall. Of those who entered, Misses Ruth Pattison, Mayme Hadley Mabel Marting, won honors. When the Inter-Class Basket Ball Tournament was in progress, the thoughts of the girls turned toward the popular winter sport. Mrs. Conn willingly acted as coach for the girls and about twelve girls became devotees of the indoor game.

The girls who took part in basket ball this year were:

Pauline Edwards
Ruth Pattison
Mary Martin

Evelyn Dora
Elizabeth Marting
Olive Letsinger
Fyrne Holtzclaw Conn

Almira Hessong
Nellie Storm
Ruth Minnick

Laura McCracken
Anna Hocker
Ione Gentry

The girls found two teams and furnished many exciting games as curtain-raisers for the class games. Some of the big crowds were due to the scrappy manner in which the girls played. They were greatly handicapped because of the lack or absence of—heating facilities in the gymnasium.

Besides these branches of athletics, the girls will have more opportunities for physical culture in the future. It has been talked that a girl's Athletic Association be organized next year, to be a part of the College Association, but having direct charge of the girls department. Class teams of girls might be organized in basket ball and an Inter-Class Tournament held for them. A girl's field meet might also be included in the next year's program along with basket ball and volley ball contests.

The publication of the Booster was begun in 1912 and from that time it has persistently "boosted" for Central Normal. Its success is due to the loyal support of the students in subscribing and contributing writings, to the college, and to the business men of Danville who have advertised in its columns. To all of whom thanks are due.

INTER-COLLEGIATE DEBATING

MANLIEF

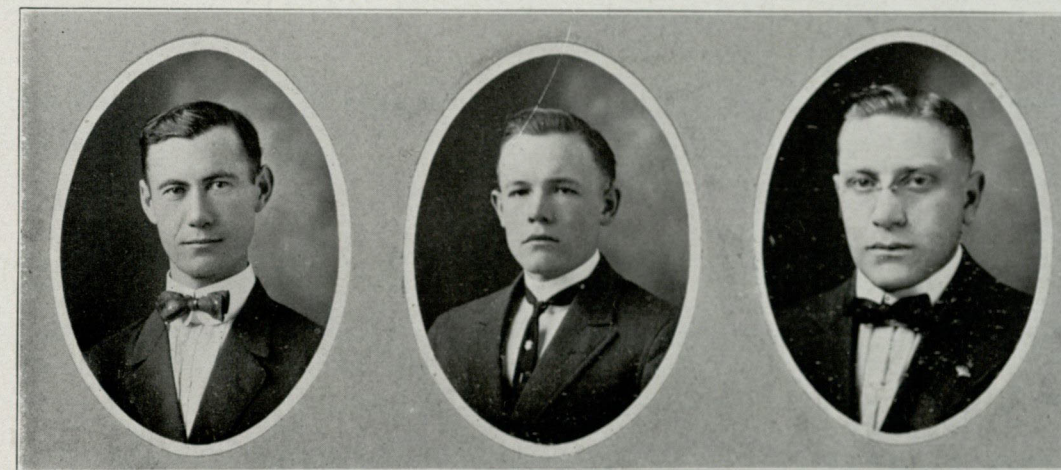

WHEELER

McCLEARY

In future generations, the spring of 1916, will be remembered as the time, when the preparedness policy as applied to the United States was thoroughly discussed pro and conn, by all College Debating Team. Not to be behind times the C. N. C. team went over to Merom Friday, May 5, and thoroughly convinced the judges that they should vote in the negative, upon the question resolved "That President Wilson's Preparedness Policy is the most practical and efficient."

LAW DEBATING TEAM.

BLED SOE.

OWENS.

KAHL.

The Law being long on wind, and fair in logic decided that they should have a Debating Team of their own. Accordingly they sent out a challenge and in short time received word from Indiana Law School that they would debate the question Resolved "That the United States Army is efficient," with the C.N.C. Team. They set the date on which they came so soon after they accepted the challenge, that our boys did not have much time in which to prepare, but even at that they succeeded in convincing a third of the judges that the negative was correct, and there is no telling what they would have done if they had had more preparation.

INTER-CLASS DEBATING

This year has been marked by the rivalry of the several classes in all kinds of contests. The last to be pulled off is the Inter-Class Debating Tournament, under the management of Forrest Farris.

The A's, B's, C's and Law's have entered teams. The Laws wisely chose from their number these men of silver tongue. Ben McCraw, Edmond Bledsoe and Ernest Owens.

The other classes staged contests or tryouts, but the C.

Team won their place by default. They are John McCleary, Morgan and Nial Blue.

Messers Gregory, Wendall and Shepherd are to uphold the honor of the A's while Messers Carmichael, Held and Monroe perform the same office for the B's.

The Schedule is as follows:

June 10, A's vs. B's.

June 14, Law vs. C's.

June 26, Winner of June 10 vs. Winner of June 14.

REMEMBRANCES OF HOME.

On the edge of Moonshine Prairie,
 Almost hidden by the trees,
 Stands our dear old homestead cottage,
 Fondled by the southern breeze.
 There my sisters and my brothers
 Meet as in the days of yore,
 And my mother watches vainly
 For my shadow on the floor.

For with footsteps lone and weary
 Sadly o'er the world I roam,
 But my mind with fond remembrances,
 Still reverts to scenes of home.
 Now my thoughts go wandering backward
 To the happy days gone by,
 And the picture that arises
 Cheers my heart, yet makes me sigh.

Many a joy is fraught with sorrow,
 When with retrospective eyes
 I survey the path behind me
 And recall those early ties.
 Many a yoke that once seemed heavy
 Now appears a wreath of flowers;
 Many a desert field and dreary
 Now is filled with lovely bowers.

Page One Hundred Twelve.

Many a picture engraven
 On my memory's blotted page,
 That with sorrow for a background
 Has increased in joy with age.
 In the first sweet blush of springtime
 In the far-off long ago,
 When the daisies and the flowers
 Came to chase away the snow;

When the wheat and grass and clover
 Made the fields and meadows green,
 And the leaves and blossoms covered
 All the shrubs with wondrous sheen
 When the elms and maples whispered
 To the south winds wandering by;
 When the leaves and buds were opening
 To the air and sun and sky—

Then our family folks would gather
 At the cottage on the farm,
 And while nature blossomed for us
 We admire her every charm;
 Most familiar, strangest nature,
 Ever young, yet old as time,
 Through the birth and death of ages
 Still existing in the thy prime.

Pauline—I think I am needed at Reno.

Now we walk about and "prospect"
 On some pleasant Sabbath morn;
 Prophecy a bounteous harvest
 And a splendid crop of corn;
 View the calves out in the pasture,
 Feed the pigs down in the lot,
 Catch and hold the little colty
 Just to see how tame he's got.

Watch the old hen clucking loudly,
 Leading forth her tender brood;
 Smile to see the awkward ducklings
 Tumbling round in search of food;
 Laugh aloud at Trusty's antics
 When he made old Jimmy climb,
 Though it's serious times for Jimmy
 If he can't get there in time.

Listen to the robin red-breast
 Warbling forth his merry notes;
 Tell the sparrows to be careful
 Or they'll split their saucy throats.
 Joys like these have been our portion
 Innocent and free from harm;
 On the pleasant Sunday mornings
 In the spring time on the farm.

O! what blissful, calm enjoyment,
 What a melody supreme,
 Fills the heart and soul and senses,
 Sweeter than the fairest dream.
 Soft the wind and bright the sunlight,
 Green the fields and fair the sky;
 Every breath is filled with rapture
 As the happy hours go by.

Let the warrior long for conquest,
 Let the miser dream of gold,
 Let the freeman raise his banner,
 Let the wrongs of men be told,
 Let the statesman reap his honors
 Of a generous, grateful land,
 But when nature gives her blessing
 All the world can understand.

How sublime how emblematic
 Of the never-dying soul,
 Reigning through the years eternal,
 While the ceaseless ages roll;
 Shades of my departed father
 And my sisters gone before;
 Though we miss you at the fireside,
 Though we felt the parting sore,

May you not be now rejoicing
 With angelic, heavenly tongue.
 That the soul is free forever
 From the dust to which it clung.
 What a grand a boundless prospect
 For the spirit after death,
 When 'tis free from earthly trammels
 At the last expiring breath;

With eternity before us,
 Paths that mortals never trod;
 Holy angels for communion,
 And withal secure in God.

THE CHEMIST'S DREAM.

He tried in vain with "Ethyl"
Her love to "crystalize"
But she spoke to him in "(ace) tones"
And told him "Alkali(es)"

He could ever feel her near
And could "detect her presence"
And one of her chief charms he knew
Was lack of "effervescence."

He sent her "flowers of sulphur"
He often went to call,
But the only place she'd meet him
Was in the alcohol.

So there he drank deep of her love
To the "point of saturation;"
And soon his "affinity" for her
Was a case of "fermentation."

When at last he roused himself.,
His dreams were all "dissolved."
And unto a clear "Erlenmeyer Flask"
Poor "Ethyl" was resolved.

They sat on the davenport,
The light was turned low,
Suddenly he broke the silence—"What's to prevent my kissing you?"
"Why, my goodness!"
But it didn't.

After Harley Manlief announced the stag party a class
"A" boy was heard to say ,that he didn't believe he would go for his father was a republican.

There are Two Reasons Why Stafford Engravings are used in this Annual and why they should be used in Yours

The First of course, is quality. Through years of specilization, our organization has become unusually expert in half-tones, color plates, zinc etchings and designs for college and school publications. We have the very best shop equipment and every facility for prompt production of quality work.

The famous Levy Acid Blast process gives our half-tones a cleaner, deeper, sharper etching than the tub method most commonly used, and makes it easier for your printer to give you a first class job.

The Second is Stafford Co-operation. For the benefit of our customers in their dealing with us, we have prepared a valuable hand-book entitled "Engraving for College and School Publications," containing 164 pages and over 300 illustrations, and giving complete information in regard to planning your publication, the preparation of copy, and ordering of engravings. This book simplifies ordering, prevents costly mistakes, and means high quality engravings at lowest cost. We do not sell it—but we lend a copy to the staff of each publication for which we make the engravings.

Let Stafford make your commencement invitations, fraternity stationery, visiting cards, and any other copper plate engraving or steel die embossing. We have a large department devoted exclusively to this class of work, and can give you both quality and service.
