GOOD FRIENDS

We believe in giving credit where credit is due. Many organizations on the campus have from time to time solicited funds and favors from the merchants of Danville. No doubt their kindness and cooperation was appreciated and they were thanked. We should like to add our appreciation.

The "Silver Dollar Week" that recently ended, added a few woes to the many hardships of the merchants, however, we heard not one grumble and all took it in a spirit of cooperation and understanding.

At the many functions and athletic events to which the town people are invited and welcomed, they have always backed Canterbury to their limit. We appreciate this spirit and believe in stating our gratefulness in print.

Without this strong feeling of friendship between college and town, we could not exist. To our good friends of Danville and surrounding countryside, we extend our heartiest thanks.

The really great school and college teachers are not primarily teachers of biology, English or economics. They are teachers of young men and women. Their success can be measured by the degree to which they correct, humanize and enrich the student's perspective, and give him wider interests, new horizons, enlarged frames of reference, and those sounder habits of working and thinking which make it possible for him to discover the relevant facts in any field, and in his own reach valid conclusions.

Our country is still young and its potential is still enormous. We should remember, as we look toward the future, that the more fully we believe in and achieve freedom and equal opportunity—not simply for ourselves but for others—the greater our accomplishments as a nation will be.

Whenever anyone has offended me, I try to raise my soul so high that the offense cannot reach it.

A pessimist is one who makes difficulties of his opportunities; an optimist is one who makes opportunities of his difficulties.

CHAPLAIN'S
CORNER

TOWN MEETINGS

Canterbury College is very fortunate in sharing with Wabash, and certain other colleges, the generosity of the Lilly Foundation, which has made possible the series of lectures and discussions which are being held on Thursday evenings. We are grateful to Wabash and to the Lilly Foundation, and we urge students to take advantage of this opportunity to broaden their horizons. Education that is narrowed down to the things that will later produce a living, or to the things in which one is especially interested, is not worthy of the name. To educate means to lead or draw out, to lead one out into new and untried fields. It is very true that a little knowledge is dangerous, but no knowledge is even worse since it indicates a lack of interest and curiosity. Don't feel that listening to one lecture and discussion or reading one book on some subject will teach you very much about the subject, but it may teach you enough to make you want to know more, and at least to ask intelligent questions. The stimulating of intellectual curiosity, developed through a broad, general course of study, is far closer to the heart of education than is the acquiring of a lot of knowledge about something that will make you a living, but not help you much in appreciating and using well the world in which you live.

Another vital reason for supporting the Town Meetings is to show appreciation of the generosity of Wabash College and the Lilly Foundation, appreciation which will at the same time create a good spirit between the colleges, and win us a good reputation with Wabash and the Lilly Foundation. Interchange of facilities and privileges will go far towards creating good understanding and cooperation, and may encourage the setting up of other similar ventures.

The Town Meetings are something that cost you nothing, and yet can be made productive of great things for individual students and for the college.

Thursday, May 1st, is the Feast of St. Philip and St. James, two of the less well known of our Lord's apostles. No one knows just why or how the dates were assigned to the saints, for any actual dates of birth or death are not obtainable. But the Church has spread the saints days through the year pretty evenly, each month having at least one, and many of them have two. In that way we keep in touch with the great men who loved and served our Lord and had such a large part in forming the early church, and do them honor.

An hour's industry will do more to produce cheerfulness, suppress evil humors and retrieve your affairs than a month's moaning.

EDDY TAKEN TO VETERAN'S HOSPITAL

George Eddy '50 Was taken to the Veteran's Hospital in Indianapolis Tuesday. He has been ill since last Thursday with a recurrence of malaria. Diagnosis was given by Dr. Price that the blood was affected so he was taken to the hospital for treatment. George was co-editor of "After Dean Hours" so that column will not be written until his return.

MISS GASTON WILL GO

Wilson, alumni and a former faculty member. The occasion of the visit will be the May Festival in which high school students of Michigan will participate.

CHI SIGMA

Two major attractions were undertaken by the active members of the Chi Sigma Fraternity last Monday night. The first, a semi-formal dance, is to take place in the gymnasium on Friday night, May 23. A well known orchestra is being sought, elaborate decorations are to be furnished, and the "sweetheart" will be honored. (All college personnel are cordially invited to attend this verracious spectacle.)

The second feature of interest to all who are in any way interested in mysticism, is the sponsoring of a well-known magician. The gentleman, including his cast of five members, will present an hour and a half show of spectacular entertainment. The magician performed this week at the University of Kentucky. Previous to that, he has performed before other students of Indiana colleges; always he was greeted warmly and, by his amazing performance, was, in every case, signed for a return engagement. (It is related, from those who have seen the show, that his wife is made to disappear before your very eyes. Ghosts walk through the crowd... not only a rabbit, but an elephant is pulled from a hat).

Tickets for these two major campus attractions will soon be available.

The entire group of fifteen pledges and a great quantity of activities serenaded the ladies at the Dorm and the Psi Chi house after the meeting--approximately 10:30--Monday evening. Dick Warman was elected by the group of pledges as president of the Pledge Class. It was through the successful efforts of the pledges (and activities) that the ladies, at both residences did respond most admirably. Thanks co-eds! We'll be back next Monday at 10:30.

KAPPA PI BETA WILL MEET TO DISCUSS FURTHER PLANS

The Kappa Pi Beta Fraternity will have a meeting at 5 p.m. Wednesday May 7, in the commerce room in Hargrave Hall. All members please be present.

ZETA SIGMA ACCEPTS PLEDGES

Zeta Sigma accepted pledges in Room 3 of Hargrave Hall last Monday night. Several pledges were not able to be present and neither were the officers in charge of pledging; therefore the formal pledging service will take place next week. Reports were given by the different committees on the Barn Dance which will be held May 24th week.

A softball team is being organized, and Bob Andrews has been placed in charge. Zeta Sigma will meet Alpha Mu Monday, May 5th, in the park at 6 p.m. for their first game.

An important meeting of Zeta Sigma fraternity will be held Wednesday, May 7, at 4:30 p.m. Watch for your notification.

ALPHA MU KAPPA PUTS FINISH
ING TOUCHES ON DANCE PLANS

Alpha Mu Kappa fraternity met in Room 5 of Hargrave Hall Monday evening to discuss the final plans for the forthcoming Founder's Day Dinner-Dance to be held June 7th. There is every indication that this event will be the social high spot of the year. A script was presented for consideration for Stunt Night which is to be May 13th, and the cast of characters was selected.

The subject of a formal opening and closing ritual was brought up, and it was decided unanimously to have one drawn up and submitted to the fraternity for approval.

A report of the very unsatisfactory meeting of the Greek Council was tendered and discussed, and culminated in the resignation of Leo Lehman as its president.

THE AND THE SUITCASE

My barracks bag with my name and serial number stencilled in large letters on the side, was stuffed to the bursting point when I started down the street to catch the bus home at vacation time. Just as I reached the front of the Administration Building, a stranger approached.

"Pardon me," he began, "but isn't your name Williams?"

I agreed with him, but couldn't remember having met him anywhere before. He remarked that I didn't know him, but that from curiosity's sake he had stopped me.

"You see," he continued, "I'm studying under the world famous Lunninger. You've heard of Lunninger, the mindreader. There is a group, of which I am one working with mental telepathy, radioactivity of various sections of the human brain, memory and other psychological phenomena. You see, when I walk down a street," he continued, "I concentrate on people and endeavor to discover of what they are thinking. Now in your case, it struck me that your name is Williams, so my curiosity getting the better of me, I had to stop you and ascertain the truth of my efforts. Perhaps you were thinking of your name at the moment?"

I again agreed that he might be correct, but that I really didn't remember what I had been thinking of at that moment.

We cut our conversation short when I saw my bus approaching and said goodbye. I watched him as he walked up town and then as I bent over to pick up my bag, my eyes met the boldly stencilled letters of my name---and I wondered.

OUT THE WINDOW

The ravages of hot weather on the Crier staff this past issue was terrific. The heat overcame the larger part of our staff and a few had to carry on for dear old Varsity.

Having been assigned to fill in the empty holes, what holes aren't empty, I seated myself at a typewriter, inserted a piece of manila paper, pulled my chair close and---looked out of the window. From here on in, anyone that denies that this material is anything but original, extemporaneous and mine---all mine---can graciously jump in the Aegean Sea,---where ever that may be.

Well sir, I looked out of the window, waiting for an accident, or fire, or maybe a ground hog to show his shadow. The greens stuff without were green. The pavement was paved, and for all I know, the red shingles on the house across the way, were red.

A kid down the street just left his bicycle standing in the front yard which all goes to prove that bicycles are still used as transportation.

I used to have a bicycle. It had three wheels---yes it did. It isn't every bicycle that can have one wheel in the middle.

Big truck just went up the grade. Very big truck. Big trucks are interesting because they are so big.

I know a guy that writes stuff like this for a living. Only he's been dead for ten years now. Starvation you know.

TRACK TEAM LOSES

Last Saturday afternoon the Warrior track participated in a triangular track meet at Ball State. The score resulted in Butler taking first with 87 1/3 points, Ball State second with 63 2/3 and Canterbury third with 14 points.

Henry Cox, high school state cham pole vaulter in 194, won the pole Vault event by jumping 12 feet. The team took several seconds and thirds to get a total of 14 points.

Canterbury did exceptionally well, without the help of two of their star runners, Joe Hodge who was unable to be there due to the death of his father and Buck Shot O'Brien who was ill.

BASEBALL TEAM LOSES TO FRANKLIN COLLEGE

The Canterbury Warriors proved a lot less than their name implies, Monday on Tiber Field, when Franklin College pinned their ears back with a lopsided score of 12 to 1.

Bob Pease started the contest and left the game in the seventh inning. At this point Whitey Jurisch walked out to the mound and exercised his arm for a few minutes until Earl "let me at em" Davis could rescue him.

Most of the substitutes found their way onto the playing field before the sun set in the west and one of them managed to plunk a nice double down the left field line for the last of three Warrior hits.

THINNIES WILL RACE WABASH

This Saturday the Cinder men will meet Wabash here at the city park. Even in spite of a water soaked track and inclement weather the thinnies have continued to work out for their rival.

Some new numbers are appearing at the finish line. Among those that have come through is the hurdler, Paul Walton and Henry Cox dominates the extended Pogo stick and the Irish Pacer in the long runs.

SWINGING DOWN THE FAIRWAYS

Canterbury once defeated golf team headed for the match at a Anderson early yesterday anticipating a victory over the Wilson-less linkers.

The six man squad led by "Eagle Eye" Jerry Burton and a reformed ball player by name of "Hap" Duncan appears to be shooting for greener fairways than what the Indiana State final score would indicate. Besides Burton and Duncan Professor Winfrey's boys have acquired the services of Bill Volk; who has been looking smooth indeed in several practice sessions. Canterbury 4-5 and 6 men Andres, Hollenback, and Hanson give the team potential balance to bring home a few more points than what the opposition might garner.

SCOOPS AND NONSENSE

Local tinsmithess, Helen Hopp, has undertaken the task of constructing ash-trays. This craft, a stand-by of all ex-VAC's will provide the school cafeteria with the much needed cigarette but and ash container. Initial supply will be small. Please do not confiscate these ash trays from cafeteria tables

BARRACKS

Comes spring and high hells seem to be making their appearance in numbers---once again we are happy!

Now it can be told: we are not the only ones operating over our budget. We hear the Veterans Administration is out of cash too. Anyone need their grass cut or something?

Dick Warman says he wants to sue "After Dean Hours." Their best plea is insanity.

Congrats to diamond-wearer Miss Spooner.

Buck Rooksby and Red Taylor are working out on the cinders on weekends. Buck says he ran the 440 in 50 seconds flat. How about that, Hank?

No it wasn't the cats meowing. It was the Chi Sigs pledges serenading the Psi Chi House and Adams Hall last Monday Night.

All the girls are smiling at Jim Reed these days. We wonder if his new car might have something to do with it.

Girls, you'd better get those formals out of moth balls. May 23rd isn't too far off!!

Tom Cox wants some rhumba lessons since he met a slick chick from Chicago, at DePauw U. He will get them tonight in the Grid Room. Anyone else interested?

Jack Adams, Junior Raub, and Whitey Jurisch helped Birdie V. and Donna "R" spend their money at the carnival in New Salem last Saturday night.

BREEZE

Sennhauser, Hobbs, and Shuck are organizing a marble tournament. Interested parties contact at their convenience.

Ex-student and Chi Sigma alumnus, Ernie Crane, is dickering for a top-notch magician friend to perform for Canterbury. Maybe he can solve the mystery of the ringing bells.

Esther Engle and Nina Jamieson are working overtime mimeographing 85,000 letters for Dr. Cumings. It must be nice to have a lot of friends.

Bill Tool doesn't want his name in the paper anymore!

Things were kind of quiet this past week; perhaps it is the lull before a big storm.

DR. CUMINGS IS GUEST SPEAKER IN CHICAGO

Dr. Edgar C. Cumings was guest speaker at a meeting held April 29th in the Chicago Diocese of the Episcopal Church, which was sponsoring a "Canterbury College" night.

The program was arranged to show the young people of the church the benefits of receiving their college education in their church school.
