LOOKING AHEAD

With the beginning of a new term, we begin to look ahead. Many will be out of school and ready to teach. These are looking ahead to June when they will graduate and hold in their hands their diplomas and degrees earned by two or four years of study and work. No prouder person can be found than that individual, tassel on his cardboard cap swinging, who walks up to get his diploma on Commencement Day.

To the Juniors Commencement Day is also a thrill. They are looking ahead to next year when they too will stand in the very place of this year's Seniors.

To the Sophomores who are just beyond the Freshman Year, Commencement Day is a something quite "awful". They feel somehow just a little better than the green "freshies" and yet in awe of the "know-it-all" Juniors and "dignified Seniors."

Last but not least, the Freshman are looking ahead to the next year or three years and faintly perhaps to that far distant Commencement Day.

FEAR YE NOT THE HEAT OF THE SUN
(Or Rain, Rain, Go Away)

Seated in class I gaze and gaze
At the horrible wetness of Danville days
Moisture is hardly the word to use—
Say I to myself as I sit and muse.

For the last four days my shoes have been soaked,
My hair is stringy and I'm easily provoked.
Though I'm not too religious, when I pray I say
(With a shuddering glance at the ghastly day)

Oh Lord, if anywhere there is any sun,
In the name of wet heavens bring Danville some.

The weekly newsreel is before you.
Picture the entire student body enrolling on the appointed day, and reaching class on time, at the right time and in the right room. You picture it. I'm already a nervous wreck.

SHALL WE HAVE A MAY DAY PROGRAM

Nothing has yet been said about a May Day Program. May we suggest that such an effort would be of interest and value to the entire student body.

Several different suggestions could be made for such an occasion. In 1933 a Spring Pageant was held in the park in the afternoon at which time the May Queen in all her glory was crowned. The day was climaxed by the Mixer in the evening.

During several successive years the Special Mixer Programs have been planned. It has been suggested that the Juniors sponsor the Mixer of the year with the Physical Education department furnishing the pageant. May be there are many and more ideas which could make this occasion worth while?

Let's all get busy and think real hard about it!

DEVIATIONS

Marcus Aurelius said, "Remember this—that there is a proper dignity and proportion to be observed in the performance of every act of life" and in the book of Romans we find these words, "When I was a child I spoke as a child but when I became a man I put away childish things."

These apply well to the conduct of an ideal student but many students are far away from such a state. Two deviations stand out vividly in the students on our campus.

First—Students are always ready to pick the note out of a fellow student's eye but forget the beam in their own. Why tell the Deans that he did this or she did that when you didn't receive one little bruise? Or, why tell teacher that he or she isn't studying when your grade will not be changed? Truly babes.

Second—There is the gossip with fellow students which may drag a third to the lowest depths and without any evidence whatsoever.

It is far better that you remember the Golden Rule or, at least, be not like the one who—saw but a part, was blind to the whole; detected dry bones, missed completely the soul."

WORKING UP

A young man who was an only son and whose parents were wealthy and aristocratic, was hastily married one night to a chorus girl—against the wishes of his parents who had other and grander matrimonial plans for him. The young bridegroom induced his best friend to break the news to the old folks the next day.

"Start of by telling them," he instructed, "that I have been murdered by gangsters, and then gently work up to the climax."

—Scrap Book

Another disadvantage of being a fat man is that it is so difficult to convince the thin fellow that he really works hard.

The simplest way to avoid constantly meeting with disappointment is to go around looking for trouble all the time.

AROUND THE CAMPUS

Who is it that is going to settle down after August 15? Freshmen shouldn't settle down so young!

Harold Payne thinks he can chaperone at 249 South Wayne?

This candid camera craze seems to be very popular on the CNC campus. Watch out, students!

Dean Hunt certainly monopolized Miss Whitney's attentions during registration. May be it was the friendly atmosphere.

These midnight dates don't work out so good do they, SamBlue?

Lloyd Hensley has turned his attentions to Effie Thompson. Nice work, Lloyd!

Ruth Wade and Paul Parker are really "that way." The old Parker line is still workable.

The love bug certainly has bitten Neimeyer and Eunice Beard. Two nights in succession!

Nothing has been said about one of CNC faithful couples—Theo Rush and Nellie Mullinix. They really are quite in earnest, it seems.

Again that romantic look is seen in Jay Smith's eyes—Arline is in school.

A certain blonde coed is wanting an introduction to Joan May's Wednesday night escort. How about it, Joan?

Several of the students taking a vacation the rest of the week regardless of what the school calendar says.

New victims going out to run the gauntlet of practice teaching. If Daisy Jones wasn't so cheerful about the whole matter it would be like a funeral.

Students hanging around the Commerce Rooms the night before exams.

Chalmer Fredrick D. and Charles Pope in too big a hurry to let Spring come to them so they go to Spring--Hill.

Ruth Thomas and Lowell Coates. What more need I say?

How college does change many things at home!

Hubert Scott gloating over the results of the recent popular girl contest.

Tuffy Morrison taking Practice Teaching at Ben Davis where the sole piece of equipment in the Physical Education Department is a pair of boxing gloves!

Sammy Williams with a slight case of "sunburn."

Joe Long teaching a Civics Class on his second day of Practice Teaching.

Bennie Decker's room mates getting him up at two o'clock in the morning and telling him it is 4:30 and time to go to work. (it worked).

STARTS AND STOPS

Again there is a whole lot of nothing to write about.

About the only activities that there is any sort of action is in track, where Dave Williams, Charles Martin and Jack Kennedy are getting in shape to compete in the Butler relays next Saturday at the Butler fieldhouse. Dave and Jack will take part in the 60 yard dash, and "Chuck" will heave the shot. They will stack up against the middle west and they will be somewhat handicapped by the lack of training facilities and the short time in which to prepare themselves.

Although Michigan seeking its fifth straight team championship in the sixth annual Butler relays, is a distinct favorite because of its capable entrants in the individual events, Indiana and Notre Dame appear to have enough strength in the four-men races to give the Wolverines a real battle for honors.

Indiana lacks such individual stars but probably will be among badly once that the the leaders in all of doctor said he would the university relay never walk?

That the doctor did races with such runners as Decker, Smith, not say that Glenn Trutt, and Miller in would never run? the key positions.

Many other schools have powerful entries in certain events but apparently cannot match the point totals of the three favorites who will dominate the field.

The total number of entries now adds up to 353 individuals representing 22 schools.

The preliminary trials will get under way at the Field House Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock with the program of all final events starting at 8 p. m.

Just Stop at Quality Service Store as you pass. Get a big Double Dip cone, a cold bottle of Coca Cola, or Dr. Pepper. You will start out with that vim and vigor, a pleasant sunny disposition. We will do our best to satisfy and start you off on the sunny side of the street.

DINSMORE'S MARKET

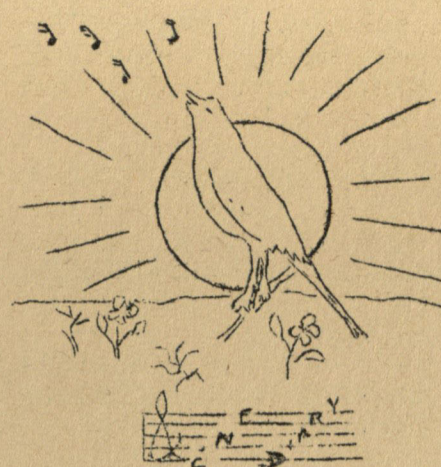

A good crowd turned out for the Mixerette, Tuesday evening. Due to the rain, there was no Y, but Dean Hunt made it up by showing a movie in the Chapel. Just at the critical moment, when the car was almost over the brink of the cliff and headed for destruction --the lights went out!

At the social which followed, there was a great deal of fun for everyone. It seems Mr. Turner is an expert at running victrolas!

Many CNC students attended the Zeta Sig Barn Dance held Friday in the Grid Room. The true atmosphere of the farm was portrayed by the live stock, corral fences and outbuildings. Mrs. Wean and Mr. Shumaker enjoyed sliding down the slide (the only entrance to the room!) and, carrying their suckers and cokes crawled through the tunnel of baled hay to get to the dance floor. Mr. Goodwin and his orchestra furnished the music.

Wednesday evening, all music students and interested parties met for the annual Music dinner. Decorations and favors were all in keeping with St. Patrick's Day.

Following the Music dinner Wednesday, an all-college Mixer was held in the Grid Room. Many students were present as well as several new ones who have just enrolled.

As it was told to me--there were several interesting matches at the dance--Neimeyer & Beard; Calloway & M. Thompson; and Eddie Gray & Doris Broyles.

Registration Day

There were several interesting things happening. Although it took but a short while to enroll, most students had to wait from an hour to two hours in line to register. Many familiar faces were missed, among them: Maurice Silvey, Goldienne Akers, and Kenny Wien.

Sam Blue was seen escorting one newcomer around and there were several others as yet unidentified.

It seems that Freda Hurst is not Jack Colglazier's little darling! His eyes are still turned toward Hanover, while Freda's --well, we sometimes wonder whether it's CNC or old Purdue!

CAMPUS FASHIONS

The main feature on the campus since this column was last published seems to have been the annual Barn Dance given by the Zeta Sigs last Friday night. There were some very clever costumes seen there.

The prize of the evening was John Edwards in short pants with a little straw hat tied under his chin.

Evelyn Jones looked real cute in a print swing dress trimmed in red with a red bow on the back of her head and her white boots made the outfit complete.

Iris Williams also looked outstanding with her red shirt, blue overalls and big straw hat sitting on the back of her head; the rouge on her cheeks looked very much like a little country girl's might look at a Barn Dance.

Wally Wallace was rather barn-dancish in his green flannel shirt and very muchly worn blue overalls.

Contrasting was, Paul Parker with his red flannel shirt.

Madge Flake looked very pretty in a brown print dress with plain brown collar and cuffs, the diamond she has been wearing certainly added to the effect.

We also thought Charles and Bob Murch looked--might we say too, too nice.

Billy, the goat, and Julia, the cow, had their pretty blue and yellow ribbons on to complete the fashions seen at the Barn Dance.

DID YOU KNOW

that Dean Hunt while driving and talking about getting sleepy the other night said, "----and my eyes get so dry and the roots grow under the ground!" and lo, and behold he was asleep and the car swerved off the road.
