HE IS RISEN

St. Matthew, 28th Chapter

In the end of the sabbath, as it began to dawn toward the first day of the week, came Mary Magdalene and the other Mary to see the sepulchre.

And, behold, there was a great earthquake: for the angel of the Lord descended from heaven, and came and rolled back the stone from the door, and sat upon it.

His countenance was like lightning, and his raiment white as snow:

And for fear of him the keepers did shake, and became as dead men.

And the angel answered and said unto the women, Fear not ye: for I know that ye seek Jesus, which was crucified.

He is not here: for he is risen, as he said. Come, see the place where the Lord lay.

And go quickly, and tell his disciples that he is risen from the dead; and, behold, he goeth before you into Galilee; there shall ye see him; lo, I have told you.

And they departed quickly from the sepulchre with fear and great joy; and did run to bring his disciples word.

And as they went to tell his disciples, behold, Jesus met them, saying, All hail. And they came and held him by the feet, and worshipped him.

Then said Jesus unto them, Be not afraid: go tell my brethren that they go into Galilee, and there shall they see me.

Now when they were going, behold, some of the watch came into the city, and showed unto the chief priests all the things that were done.

And as they were assembled with the elders, and had taken counsel, they gave large money unto the soldiers,

Saying, Say ye, His disciples came by night, and stole him away while we slept.

And if this comes to the governor's ears, we will persuade him, and secure you.

So they took the money, and did as they were taught: and this saying is commonly reported among the Jews until this day.

Then the eleven disciples went away into Galilee, into a mountain where Jesus had appointed them.

And when they saw him, they worshipped him: but some doubted.

And Jesus came and spake unto them, saying, All power is given unto me in heaven and in earth.

Go ye therefore, and teach all nations, baptizing them in the name of the Father, and of the Son, and of the Holy Ghost:

Teaching them to observe all things whatsoever I have commanded you: and, lo, I am with you always, even unto the end of the world. Amen.

Switched Car Hits Auto at Crossing

A great deal of excitement was created here Friday morning at about 10:15 when a car of coke was making a running switch, from the side track to the elevator switch track. Just as the car reached the elevator, an automobile driven by Fred York of north of Little Point started to cross the track. The York car was struck dead center and was pushed up the side track for about 30 feet before the coke car came to a stop. After striking the York car, the car of coke started rolling back down the grade and could not be stopped, due to faulty brakes. Attempts were made to stop the fleeing car with pieces of timber, but it kept on going until it ran off the end of the side track east of the main street crossing.

Mr. York, who had come to town to get some machinery repairs and clover seed, was not too badly hurt, although it was thought he suffered some cracked ribs. The York car was pretty badly damaged.

Students Invited to Enter Slogan Contest

To enlist the help of grade and high school students in the State Highway Department's efforts to keep roadsides free of debris, Virgil W. Smith, a member of the Highway Commission, is awarding a $50.00 Savings Bond to the student in each division who enters the best "Clobber the Clutterbug" slogan.

"The Highway Department spends around a million dollars a year on roadside care," Mr. Smith said, "and we feel that the youth of the State can influence their parents in good roadside house-keeping and can be a great help in our educational program."

Commenting upon the contest and what is hoped it will accomplish, Governor Craig said, "It's just plain poor manners to throw trash along the roadside. Tin cans, glass bottles, newspapers and other debris have been found to be directly responsible for a number of accidents. There's a direct relationship between good housekeeping and good motor manners, and I feel sure that the support of the youth of the State in this campaign will do much to reduce the unnecessary cost of roadside cleaning."

The slogans should be sent to the Planning Coordinator, State Highway Department, State House Annex, Indianapolis, Ind. They must be postmarked no later than midnight April 30, 1955. The slogan is not to exceed five words, and each entry must bear the name, address, school and grade of the student.

Students through the eighth grade will be eligible to compete in the grade school contest while those in the ninth grade through the 12th will be eligible for the high school contest.

Judges of the contest will be Joseph Lingo, Indiana Traffic Safety Director; Mrs. Sophia Deffenbaugh, Andrews, Chairman of Keep Indiana Beautiful; and Mrs. Grace Gray, Mitchell, of the Indiana Roadside Council.

For centuries Sunday has been a day of worship, religious activity, friendly interchange and gladness. The other six days were devoted to business and secular activities. This division of time and interest separated religion from the normal activities of the week and in the minds of many people, limited it to Sunday.

Now it is becoming evident to most of us that all of life's activities are interrelated. Religion, economics, business, social welfare, politics, recreation and all phases of life reacting upon each other form the whole.

Likewise we are now aware that the foundations of our freedom — religious, economic and political — stand or fall together. To preserve our good and great America let us seek the Lord and follow his guidance in all of our activities seven days a week.

We Shall Live
Lesson for April 10, 1955

"ETERNAL" Life has two meanings in the New Testament. One meaning refers to life beyond death. And yet this meaning is never applied to all human beings. It is either taken for granted or taught outright in the New Testament that all persons survive what we call death. But "eternal life" refers in this sense only to the survival of those who have accepted God's grace, never to those who have rejected it. The other meaning has to do with a quality of life itself, here and now, in this world, this side of what we call death.

Everlasting Life Can Be Terrible
The point is that if this quality of life is lacking in this world, the prospect of immortality is the most dismal that can be imagined. A modern pessimistic poem ends with the thought that in our whole universe we find everything contemptible—there is nothing to praise, not even ourselves. Suppose a person who has come down to that wretched conclusion goes on out through the curtain of death into the beyond—facing the prospect of endless existence, still seeing nothing but the contemptible within and without? What worse hell could be needed than that? So in the New Testament, immortality, as such, the mere prospect of personal survival after death—is never held out as something to be desired in itself. Eternal life, life that endures beyond death, is desirable only when the person who looks forward to it already possesses eternal life, as a changed and new life. To put it another way: Only those who have been born again can be happy in looking forward to their "birthday in heaven." A corpse lying in the baggage car does not look forward to the train's arrival at its destination; only the living may have that pleasure. The corpse exists; the passengers live. So the Christian thought of Life—beyond is not "We shall exist" but rather "We shall live."

Christ Lives Again
Perhaps Christians believe in eternal life, in the sense of this on-going through "death" of this present eternal life, less because of arguments than because of some inner certainty, some whisper of God within the heart rather than some argument of logic knocking at the brain. Still, if one can speak of arguments, there are two which especially appeal to Christians in all ages. One is that Christ lived, and lives, again. The first Christians told the world about a risen Christ. It is true they spoke of Christ crucified; but a crucifix does not express the whole Christian message. The dominant note of the New Testament is not death but life. Paul appeals to the resurrection of Christ in this famous chapter of his letter to the Corinthians. If that story is not true, he says, we are simply back where we were, the whole Christian faith is pure delusion. Every once in a while, and in our times more than twice in a while, people will try to tell us that the resurrection of Christ is a story you can "take or leave, that you can cut off the gospels with the burial of Jesus, and still be a Christian. No, if that were so Christ would be no more than another dead dreamer. The resurrection sheds a brilliant light on everything that went before it and everything that comes after it.

Christ Lives in Me
The other argument which lies at the heart of the Christian's faith is a "life everlasting" which is worth looking forward to, is based on personal experience. "Christ lives in me" was the testimony of Paul first, and it echoes from the hearts of Christians ever since. When a man honestly thinks himself over, and asks, "What have I done, what am I, that God should trouble himself about me any longer? What right have I to expect, much less to demand, life everlasting?" his answer will be a melancholy "Nothing." Life that has no present sheen or strength of eternity about it or in it, has outlived itself in less than three score years and ten. But if there is anything in a man that Christ has touched, if there is anything in a man that warrants saying, "Christ lives here," then he will dare and rejoice to say Christ, "We shall live."

All husbands are alike. Fortunately they have different faces so you can tell them apart.

No other low-priced car even comes close to matching these important Chevrolet advantages...

If you're planning to buy a new car, the one you just can't afford to miss seeing is Chevrolet—for 19 straight years America's best-selling car. The Motorama Chevrolet offers you so much more than the other low-priced cars that it's hardly fair to compare them. And even the high-priced cars don't have all the advantages that today's Chevrolet offers you.

The beauty's built in—not bolted on! And that makes a big difference—not only in how your car looks today, but in how it will look tomorrow, too. Chevrolet's good looks spring from fine, clean, uncluttered design. The beauty is inherent in the basic contours of metal and glass. There's no excessive bolted-on ornamentation to go out of style overnight.

The Body's by Fisher!

No other low-priced car has a Body by Fisher—but many of the high-priced cars do. That fact alone tells you there must be something extra special about the style, quality and construction of Body by Fisher. And there is! You can see it, feel it and even hear it when you slam the door.

Today's most modern engines!

That goes for Chevrolet's new V8 and two new sixes as well. For example, all Chevrolet engines bring you a modern 12-volt electrical system—double the voltage of other low-priced cars. This means quicker cold weather starting and a greater electrical reserve. Then Chevrolet's new "Turbo-Fire V8" has the shortest piston stroke in the industry, and develops the highest power per pound of any V8 in the low-price field. It takes valve-in-head leadership like Chevrolet's to bring you truly modern engines like these!

A drive to suit your driving!

You can take your choice of three different drives—and every one's as modern as this minute. There's silky, peppery Powerglide, new Overdrive (both extra-cost options), and a new Synchro-Mesh transmission that's as smooth as they come.

All the power helpers you want!

Windows, seat, steering, brakes—all are available with built-in "muscles" to make driving as effortless as you wish.

And you can even have air conditioning if you like. These things are extra-cost options, of course, but they more than repay you with extra pleasure.

Fun is "standard equipment"!

You find that out the first time you take the wheel of a new Chevrolet. Here, you discover, is a car that takes the curves like it's on rails, that steers like it's reading your mind. It seems simply to ignore bumps—and when you stop suddenly, there's no excessive lurching or diving, either. There has never been such a difference in low-priced cars as there is today—or so many good reasons why you should drive a new Chevrolet. Come in and take the key.

100% SLEEP HAPPENINGS

By Harold Hanson

POLE CAT - Winds accompanying a recent blizzard failed to howl as loud as a big yellow tom cat that climbed to the top of a tall pole in Columbus and defied all attempts to ground him. Finally firemen were called and the big fellow was brought down from his precarious perch. Apparently he had no home and after failing to even meow a "thank you" he took off in high gear. The animal had braved elements which made human beings seek cover and hole up.

NOTHING TO CROW ABOUT - When a rooster's comb is frozen it is best to cut off the frozen portions promptly according to the poultry department of Purdue University. If nothing is done the frozen comb becomes very painful to the bird, his activity is reduced and his ability to fertilize eggs is impaired. After the frozen comb is carefully trimmed and the rooster is penned away from other chickens for a few days the healing is rapid.

INCOME TAX FORMS - Blankety blanks.

TIP FOR YOUR HAT - A strip of wax paper between the hat and leather sweat band, gentlemen, will keep the hat ribbon from becoming stained from perspiration or hair lotion.

WITH A PINCH OF SALT - An exhausted load was sitting in the middle of sun-baked highway. A tenderhearted motorist spied the creature, stopped, picked it up and placed it gently in the shadow of his car and then drove on.

ACCOMMODATING LADS - Firemen from a Michigan City engine house got in a little extra practice recently without having to get wet, singed or use any water. Seems that Mrs. J. J. Schaefer returned home to discover they had lost their key. The fire ladders responded, raised a ladder to a second-floor window, removed a screen and let them in.

Worry is like a rocking chair. It will give you something to do but will not get you anywhere.

LETUCE IN THE COFFEE - The Muncie star reports that contributions of $269.75 to the fund for families of four firemen killed or injured in a fire which broke out at the Schwartz Paper Company were turned in by Mrs. Helen Halstead, proprietor of Helen's Dining Hall on Ind. 67. The money was donated to a coffee fund by truck drivers and various patrons of the truck-stop restaurant. President Abe Falls, of the Firemen's Union, said that division of contributions from various community benefits soon will be announced. The coffee fund has been in operation for the past eight years and has been used to help numerous causes. Any family of a trucker who loses his life in the Midwest usually receives from $100 to $200 from it.

A mistake is evidence that someone at least tried to do something.

PUNCTUATE THIS - A funny little man told this to me: I fell in a snow drift in June said he went to a ball game out to see it saw a jellyfish float up in a tree. I found some gum in a cup of tea. I stirred my milk with a big brass key. I opened my door on my bended knee. I beg your pardon for this said he but 'tis true when told as it ought to be 'tis a puzzle in punctuation you see.

DEPUTY CHASES DOBBIN - Maybe spring in the air affected a big gray horse but at any rate he had plastered his nose up against the windshield of a motorist's car on a road near LaPorte and was staring at him when Deputy Sheriff Donald Walsh arrived. As he braked his car the horse apparently got the idea and really left the scene. Deputy Walsh chased the animal for a distance with his car but the zig-zag course of the old boy made footwork a must. Walsh, aided by Gus Swanson, chased it for more than a mile before cornering the runaway. Exhausted, Walsh tied it to a fence and wearily walked back to his car.

Saw a western the other night on TV that was so old the hero didn't even play a guitar.

Why not clip this and send to a serviceman or other displaced Hoosier?
